Reflections

From many places we came, eager to meet new people and see new places. We came at a time when prosperity, strikes, a war in Viet Nam and corruption blazed a path across the newspapers and engraved deep impressions in our minds. We came to little Rhode Island to, not one, but two campuses; one new, modern, and beautiful, the other old and mellowed in the traditions of classes past.

We spent the first year adjusting to college life, learning the basics in such fields as Engineering, Business, Theatre, and more. We found new faces and made them friends while the customs of a small New England college surrounded us.

Our first summer as collegians passed and we returned as sophomores. In addition to our studies we were treated to the excellent play of a scrappy basketball team that made it all the way to the NAIA Finals. Financial problems troubled the college, culminating in the closing of the doors of the day classes in Providence.

Another summer passed and we returned, this time, all of us to the Bristol campus. For the first time we were united as a class. A new Student Union greeted us, and quickly became the focal point of the student activities on a rebellious campus. Frustration and resentment infested the campus, starting with the students and progressing up the ladder to the faculty and the administration. The Co-op program fell apart, leaving many of its students out of phase with their courses. The ominous term, retrenchment, used as a ploy by a distant administration, hung like a fog over the campus. Students protested the imminent curtailment of many courses and majors. They were joined by a faculty who picketed the campus in support of a new contract. Students joined the faculty against the administration in support of the retention of retrenched faculty members and the reestablishment of all courses. One man, himself a former faculty member, Mr. William Rizzini, spoke out against the problems of the school. He stood for what he thought was right, instead of what he was told to stand for. Students and faculty united behind him, ultimately resulting in the rescinding of the retrenchment and the reestablishment of many courses.

Home we went for a third summer, unsure whether or not we had a college to come back to. By this time the country had shifted its attention away from a fading Viet Nam and was focusing upon a Watergate scandal, the resignation of a president and his vice-president, and the worst recession since the depression of the thirties.

With a sigh of relief, we did return, this time as Seniors. We found a totally new and open administration, headed by the one man who was willing to speak his mind. A new and invigorating atmosphere, existed. We, as students, were well on our way to Baccalaureate Degrees, the faculty was busy teaching instead of picketing, and the administration was busy keeping the college financially sound and filling the many temporary positions established during the summer.

As Seniors we experienced another great basketball team, concrete canoes?, and the culmination of four years of studying.

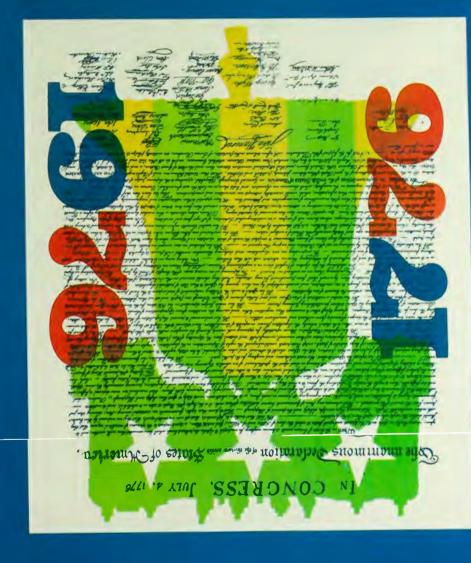

Our education from books is what we came for, but we've grown wiser than the books we came to learn from. Indeed, ours has been an experience we'll never forget. As we graduated, we were well aware that that day was the first day of the rest of our lives.

Dear graduates of the 1976 class,

I will leave it to others to remine you of the meaning, glory and pomp of Commentement and the arhitement that the diploma signifies. Your family, your friends, your faculty and the entire college are proud of you. We all salute you. What I want to express to you is my hope that when you have the urge to brush the dust from the cover of this year-book in five, sen, or twenty years from now, that you will be beginning to be satisfied with yourself and with this achievement. achievemint.

achievement. You come to us with mable objective and that fantastic idealise of youth. It was our obligation to prepare you to cope as effectively as possible for a career in an ever-changing society. But the most important of igation has rested and vial continue to rest with yourself. Are you satisfied with yourself at this point? If you are not it does not mean thet we have failed nor that you have failed, the cially if you are still seeing achievement and have the will to affect a change. The point is never be satisfied. Do not be afraid to make life a little better for those who mean much the you, those who work with you and for you. It really doesn't matter if ft is just deperson or 1600. GAMES

Cross Country

The Roger Williams College Cross Country team is the newest arrival on the school's intercollegiate sports roster. Under the leadership of Captain Benny Hellman, the RWC harriers kicked off their first season against a strong Rhode Island College. The RIC meet was followed by taking on such contenders as Southeastern Massachusetts University, Suffolk University, Clark University, Gordon College, Bryant College and a host of others. Roger Williams also placed 7th in the Barrington Invitational and 4th in the small College State meet. Although RWC did not achieve a first place standing during any of these meets, the experience that was gained has produced several good runners. The groundwork has been laid and should lead to a successful season next fall.

Coach Maker

The RWC Soccer team, under the leadership of Coach Gil Costa opened the season with a 1-0 win over Windham College. The team led by Captain Ron Kopacz, Co-Captain Gary Rose and Co-Captain Rob Spence led the team against Barrington, Bryant, New Hampshire College, Nichols and a host of others closing the season with 2 wins and 7 losses. Coach Costa, in his first year as coach at RWC has developed in the soccer team the potential for a very strong team for next fall. Only the three seniors Spence, Rose and Kopacz will be lost. The squad does however, have a number of outstanding Freshman players such as Steve Curry and Ron Nawrocki. Support from the manager, Dave Gorton also helped the success of the team. The team spirit, which is highly evident makes one thing clear, you can't hold these men down.

Basketball

Coach Collucci

The 1975-1976 Basketball Season has proved to be an outstanding one for RWC. The Hawks have finished with an impressive 19-7 season record with Bob Henneberger and Alonzo Holloway leading the team in scoring. Keith Gurley has led the team in rebounds. Fred Barnes has also had one of his finest seasons scoring over 13 points per game.

The Hawks' first game of the season was a 65-78 loss to Husson College which was followed by a string of four wins over Johnson State, Franklin Pierce, Curry College and St. Joseph's College. The Hawks went on to defeat a host of other contenders in several more games that followed.

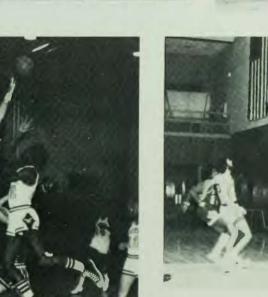

The Hawks, under the leadership of Coach Vic Collucci rolled on to a victory over Keene State, to capture the NAIA, Division 5 title. The RWC team then moved on to the Regional playoffs where the bid to play in the NAIA, national playoffs was lost to Husson College in Maine. Once again the Roger Williams College Basketball team has set another season record of which they have every right to be proud of.

Hockey

The Roger Williams College Hockey Team has ended its 1975-1976 season with a 9-11 record. The season started with a 9-4 loss to Framingham State College which was followed by six wins over the following teams: 8-1 over Clark University. 6-4 over Southeastern Massachusetts University and another 9-6 win over Clark University, this being the second victory over Clark. This winning streak also resulted in rolling over Gordon College with a 18 to 2 victory followed by an 8 to 7 win over Stone-hill College and a 16 to 5 win over Quinapiac.

Team Captain Pendergast, led the Hawks, of RWC in scoring. Captain Pendergast scored 25 Goals, made 35 assists and also scored an average of 2 to 3 goals per game over the course of the Hockey Season.

The Hawks went on to the NAIA, Division 5 Tournament, in a game against Hawthorne College of New Hampshire. The Division playoff game with Hawthorne went into a double overtime which resulted in a 7 to 6 loss for the Roger Williams Hockey Team.

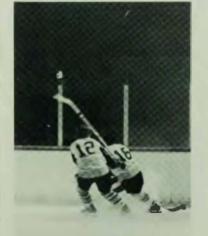

Other distinctions earned by the Hawks was the selection of the team Captain, Pendergast for the NAIA, Division 5 all star team. Coach Maker, with the able assistance of Captain Pendergast and Co-Captains O'Neil and Simek have led the hockey team of Roger Williams College to one of the best seasons ever. The efforts of these individuals along with other outstanding players such as Nawrocki who was second in scoring and Turco who was third on scoring for the Hawks' 1975-1976 season along with the other members of the squad have made this possible. With the strong foundation that has been built by these men the record next Fall should be even more impressive.

Baseball

Under the leadership of Coach Hank Corriea, the Roger Williams College Baseball Team opened its season splitting a double header with an 8-7 victory and a 1-0 loss to Barrington College. The Roger Williams Hawks rolled on to a 9-8 record before their final bid to enter the Division 5 NAIA playoffs. In the final game of the season, the Hawks took on South-Eastern Mass. University, the number 3 team in the NCAA Division 1 in New England. The Hawks lost their bid for the playoffs with a 9-0 loss in the first game of a double header and a 2-1 loss in the second game which was tied 1-1 until SMU scored a run in the 12th inning. This left the final season record for Roger Williams at 9-10.

The Hawks were fortunate not only in having an outstanding coach in Hank Corriea but also some very strong players including Freshman Steve Guzzon, who was picked as rookie of the year and Sophomore Bob Scussel who won the Most Improved Player Award. Some strong pitching by Freshmen, Ron Nawrocki, Jack McKinnon and Junior Randy Clarkson also greatly aided in the overall team effort. Bob Reis was selected as the Most Valuable Player and held the batting title with a .338 average. Bob Reis also was being scouted by the Boston Red Sox and has been invited to an invitational tryout with the Red Sox in Pawtucket.

There can be no doubt that the 1976 season has produced a baseball squad that has every right to be proud of their accomplishments which were certainly made easier by the efforts of Trainer Ruddy Crocco and Manager Bob Morris. With the strong base that has been established, the 1977 season should see Roger Williams playing in the NAIA playoffs.

Varsity Golf

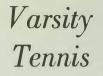

The 1976 Varsity Golf team led by Coach Paul Langello and the Team Captain Jim Cota charged on to a 4-5 season record. The RWC golf squad entered the season with a loss to Bryant College and Bridgewater State College. Not to be held down for long the team bounced back with three wins in a row defeating Rhode Island College, Curry College and Quinnipiac College.

Team Captain Jim Cota tied the school record for the low score for 18 holes when he fired an even par 72 on the home course at the Swansea Country Club. Jim is the first RWC player to tie this record since it was set in 1973. Captain Cota was also selected as the most valuable player for the 1976 golf season.

Coach Langello listed the top five players on the year's golf team as 1. Captain Jim Cota, 2. Gene Pietrantonio, 3. Tim Whelan, 4. Joe Occhi, and 5. Steve Platkin. The other members of the golf team were John Mainville, Steve DeAngelis, Steve Farley and Scott Curan.

To close out the golf season, the Roger Williams College team after a pair of losses to New Haven and Sacred Heart in a three way match. The RWC team then met Gordon and St. Francis in another match winning over Gordon. The next stop was the NAIA, District 5, playoffs at Cape Arundel Country Club in Maine. The Roger Williams Team placed 6th in the District 5 playoffs.

The Roger Williams College Tennis Team has just completed one of its most successful seasons yet under the leadership of Coach Dick Yakovonis and Team Captain Bob Carpenter. The improvement is very noticeable through the winning of 14 individual matches this year as compared to none in the 1975 season. The season opened with a 5-2 victory over Cape Cod Community College in Barnstable, Massachusetts. The season consisted of a series of games against Curry College, Bryant College, Bridgewater State, Gordon College, and Eastern Nazarene College. The last game of the season the RWC, Hawks were topped by a 1-8 win by Nichols College to bring the season record to 1-6.

Team Captain Bob Carpenter, the top seed (Number One on the ladder) was selected as the most valuable player for the 1976 Tennis season. Captain Carpenter won 4 of the 8 matches he has played with the last 3 matches he played all being victories for him. Captain Carpenter also holds the distinction of being the most valuable player. On the team ladder the remainder of the top 5 players are 2. Rob Brodie, 3. Bob Fontaine, Bud Stahler in 4th and 5th Brian Sarvetnick.

Coach Yakavonis pointed out that none of this year's team members are seniors so the experience that has been gained this season will not be lost to any graduations. This year's efforts have demonstrated that tennis is a growing sport at Roger Williams College and with the proposed construction of four new tennis courts on campus in the upcoming year the program should prosper even more. The future of the 1977 tennis season certainly looks bright.

Intramural Sports

Through the efforts of Bill O'Connell, Roger Williams College has completed another successful year of intramural sports competition.

The intramural football competition was won by the unit 1 and 2 "Iron Curtain" team. Fred Barnes and Keith Gurley showed some excellent playing in defeating unit 3 South in the final playoffs.

The intramural basketball playoffs were won by Unit 1 after defeating a strong opponent from unit 3 North. Despite some strong play by 3 North's Ron Kopacz, Dan Mara, Tony Sciucco and the other members of the squad. Unit 1's victory can be thanked in part to the strong play by Danny Correia and Jay Byrd.

In the intramural softball, unit 2 defeated the commuters in the final playoff game with a score of 2-0. The softball competition included both male and female student teams all of which played hard, and certainly everyone enjoyed the competition. Special thanks go to Fred Barnes, Keith Gurley and Bernard Miller for helping to make the intramural sports program the success that it was.

The intramural sports program made a large success primarily because it was a program that everyone could participate in. This competition seemed especially valuable for the kinship it fostered among the people within a unit with everyone working together.

UNIONS

Student Senate

The Student Senate's goal is to create a sentative form of Student Government. e to provide means for responsible and effective student participation in the organization and control of student affairs; to serve as the official voice of student opinion, to maintain academic freedom and student rights; and enhance educational, social, and cultural opportunities.

Quill

The purpose of the Quill is to provide a readable, enjoyable means of communication to the RWC college community. During the '75-'76 school year, the Quill sponsored such things as a press conference concerning the Nike Site, and a student polled ''Teacher of the Year Award'' in conjunction with the Student Senate.

S.A.S.

The Student Assistance Services is an organization of, by, and for the student body of the college. are a communications medium that serves the students, faculty, and administration. We also sponsor activities such as the Halloween Party, "Las Vegas Night, and the "Gay Nineties Night." The SAS works closely with the Student Senate to help plan the Winter and Spring weekends. Two annual blood drives are sponsored by the SAS and also publish the Student Handbook.

The Political Forum is a month partisan, student-run organization designed to promote littletett in and knowledge of politica affairs and current events. The Forum's program consists of inviting guest speakers to give presentations on the issues of the time, increase voter awareness, and present films on topics of general political interest. This year invitations were extended to the People's Republic of China and Nigeria, and to the Disarmament and Arms Limitation Agency, to provide speakers.

CONGRESSIONAL INTERNSHIPS

Political Forum members Ken Osborne, Mike Basileo, and Paul Jensen were participants in the Roger Williams Congressional Internship program. The three spent a week in Washington, D.C., under the sponsorship of the Rhode Island Congressional Delegation, listening to various Committees at work. Ken was asked to participate in the House Committee hearings reviewing veterans benefits, and the "G.I." Bill.

Photography Club

The Photography Club, while still a fledgling organization has come a long way in the past year. The club has accumulated a well equipped darkroom for black and white photography and can boast of the number of talented student photographers as members.

This year the club has undertaken several different responsibilities, the most important of which were filling the photographic needs of such campus publications as the '76 ''Witness'' and the ''Quill.''

The club would like to acknowledge Bill Stout, (standing, upper right hand corner) for all his work throughout the year.

Yearbook

We, the yearbook staff, feel that our work, good or bad, speaks for itself. We would like to acknowledge and thank two very special people, David Ferguson and Laurie Werthesen, who gave of their time and efforts to make this book a success.

BRISTOL COUNTY MEDICAL CENTER BLUES

Framework of brick and sterile Unlike the countenance I wore as I entered Confusion and forms, corridors a maze -Shepherd me to the room of emergencies and other sorrows. Three blind mice, One a face about to spill tears and years Of children never born and the agony Of fitting across the room from a man she lived with For thirty-five years or eo, as he pages through Time Magazine - long gazes upon the languid derudated women

Who call themselves artists and sourcesses. And the third a child again, Given directions in a clear kind voice, Taking time to be understood. Then I, led to the toom stale with medicinal alcohol. Not left to explain my presence or carcumstances, A thermometer thirst into my mouth to arrest my crites. Pulled and jabbed, my team supporting the taintless pillow.

Snapshots taken of my leg that 1 will never Be able to show my grandchildren, For they are put on file as records of Just are the functioning of the human body. Not knowing for moments - whispering outside the door; Violated and left with my choking cries unheard. Inflammation: a shadow on the film, the cord Of life festered, depriving finer threads of that life. Not so sterile. Not on the outside, but in the outside turned in.

Roger Williams College Literary Magazine, ALDEBARAN, which is nationally acclaimed, consists of submissions of our Creative Writing students. These works vary from poetry, short stories, and photography, as well as other creations of fine quality. ALDEBARAN is published bi-annually, and also includes submissions by authors nationwide. Art Club

The R.W.C. Art Club exposes the student to what is involved in setting up and presenting an art exhibit. Students are encouraged to put their creations up for sale at these exhibitions, held in the main lobby of the library three times per semester.

The work presented in the exhibitions are truly a credit to the artist's name. Many students have won awards for their creations, ranging from paintings, and ceramic sculpture, to wheel thrown and hand built artistry. Ski Club

"M•O•V•E," a company of dancers in residence at RWC, was founded in 1974 with the basic idea that people of all ages need to see and be involved with movement. Kelli Wicke Davis is the founder and artistic director of "M•O•V•E," as well as director of dance at RWC.

This year the company has been working with school children in the East Bay area performing at URI's 'Women in Dance in Rhode Island,' teaching master classes at Barrington College and in New York City. Three members of the company have opened DANCEWORKS, a contemporary studio in Newport, as an extension of their work at RWC. Dancers include Hayward Chappell, Kelli Wicke Davis, Deborah Dennis, Helaine Masonberg, Nancy Jane Whitten, and Joslyn Zimmering.

DIVERSIONS

Student Activities for the 1975-76 Academic year started off with the annual Halloween Costume Party on October 31. First prize went to Jim Whiffen, Al Deramo and Steve Kellert for their appearance as the Marx Brothers. Marty Ewall, Fred Barnes and Mat Egan took second as the sexiest bunnies on campus. Fred Carl's natural appearance won him third prize.

Las Vegas Night

The '75-'76 year was in full swing and so were the crap tables! Student Assistant Services (S.A.S.) sponsored a fall gambling spree. It was a night for the big spenders! Where else could you get a hundred dollars for only $1? Toward the end of the night, bewildered eyes looked at their accumulated winnings as they paid $40,000 for a ''dart board'' and those who lost squandered their sorrow in beer. When it was all over, general consensus was that a good time was had by all.

Ah come on you guys, I'm worth more than that!

Sock Hop

In February a Sock Hop brought us back into the fifties era. Sponsored by Student Government, Donn Government and SAS the Hop was for the benefit of the Meeting Street School. Winners of the Fonzi and Lavern and Shirley look alike contest were Tom Blackman and Mary Ellen Dupre who were awarded ten speed bikes. A special award was presented to Mat Egan for his special resemblance to Richie Cunningham.

Spring Weekend

Jack Radcliffe and the "'New Viper Review"

Through the efforts of the Roger Williams College Social committee, spring weekend "76" was a huge success.

The weekend which kicked off on Friday, the 13th of April, opened with the devouring of hundreds of huge, thick, juicy steaks at the Steak and Brew Barbeque. The steak was washed down with a generous quanity of beer by the many participants. After being pretty well fueled up on these morsels, the activity graduated to the Student Center and bumped and boogied to that band of renown, "Actual Proof."

Being of strong spirit, (or something) Saturday's festivities commenced by gobbling down tons of chicken, hamburgers and beer to the sound of "Head of the Meadow," with Lawrence Talbot. Upon arrival of the night hour, the gang now 1500 strong, enjoyed the sounds of Jonathan Edwards with special guests Martin Mull and the John Payne Band. Several songs were done from the various hit albums of these performers including Johnathan Edwards, new hit, "Rockin Chair Lady," and finishing up with "When the Role is Called Way Up Yonder." All of this action had the crowd clapping, cheering and calling for more.

After a modest amount of sleep, Sunday's festivities opened up with more food, more beer and the sound of "Jack Radcliffe and the New Viper Review." The food and song was supplemented by three legged races, sack races and the like. Other students and guests, in the true competitive spirit engaged in a game of softball and the engineers proved their concrete boat to be seaworthy upon sailing the craft across Gauvey's Pond. Being a warm day some of the boaters even took an unexpected dip in the "great Campus Pond."

After a weekend of play the pace slowed to enjoying two excellent movies in the student center, namely, ''Little Big Man,'' and ''Paper Moon.''

Without a doubt, everyone enjoyed this one "Last Blast," before the upcoming final Exams.

Awards Banquet

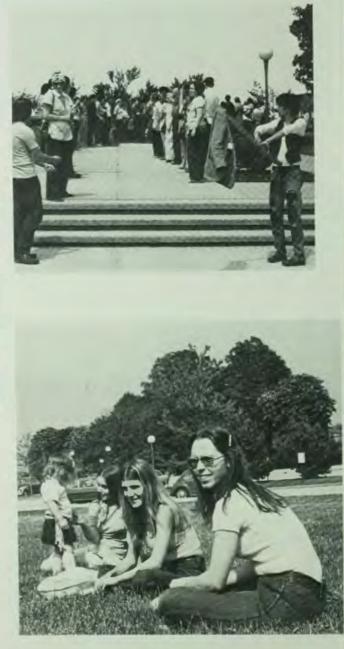

On May 6, an awards banquet, sponsored by the college, was held to present awards for all college activities, including scholarship sports and academic awards. Through the great efforts of Mr. Kenneth Cedergren (Career Counseling), Doctor Mike Swanson (acting Dean of Students), and Hector Massa (Athletic Director), the evening was a great success, with a turnout of over 250 people. A delicious meal, prepared by Tom Fitzgerald, was definitely a highlight of the evening. William Grandgeorge, head of the Theater Department, acted as Master of Ceremonies, adding much humor to the occasion. All combined, the whole evening was great, a lot of fun, and made us very proud of those whose achievements brought them these awards.

Senior Cookout

This year's Senior Commencement Ball was held at the Sheraton Islander in Newport. April 23. All 150 guests enjoyed the gala fest, starting with a cocktail hour in the pool area, followed by a delicious buffer in the Governor's ballroom. The entertainment provided by ''Jubelation,'' a contemporary rock show group, had the guests up and dancing 'til the wee hours of the morning.

Jim Whiffen, Vice-President of the senior class, served as master of ceremonies.

Yesterday is a memory And tomorrow is a dream

But today well lived Makes every yesterday Good to remember And every tomorrow A dream come true.
