NEW ENGLAND ACCREDITATION

Dr. Gauvey, in a recent interview, stated that he is making progress in his efforts to receive New England Accreditation for Roger Williams. "We are accredited locally," he said, "and we expect to receive New England Accreditation in the near future." We are presently members of the New England Association of Junior Colleges, and this is the first step toward accreditation."

There are, however, a number of requirements that have to be met before this accreditation is received. First, a new campus is needed so that our lab facilities and library can be expanded. Secondly, an annual income over and above our tuition is required, and thirdly, a continuing appraisal of our academic program is needed.

Fr. Gauvey pointed out that steps are now being taken to meet these requirements. Three possible sites for a new campus are now being considered, one of which might be made known in February. An annual fund drive has been initiated. Booklets have been mailed to parents of all students to inform them of the activities of the school and to request some financial assistance. These booklets have also been mailed to corporation members and past donors for the same purposes.

Along with other administrators of Roger Williams, Dr. Gauvey visited three junior colleges in Connecticut to study their curriculums and methods of reevaluating them.

Committees have been set up among our faculty to reevaluate our own curriculum. Mr. John Murgio is in charge of the committee reviewing business management, Dr. Way and _____ are in charge of reviewing general studies, and Mr. Lemieux and Mr. Sherman are in charge of reviewing the engineering program. Dr. Gauvey was careful to point out that this is just a review and that no changes are anticipated at this time.

During the course of the interview, Dr. Gauvey announced that the school has

by A. Tetreault

"The elements were so mix'd in him
That Nature might stand up
And say to all the world—Here, was a man."

On December 12 James Farmer, of the Congress of Racial Equality spoke to a small, but highly enthusiastic audience gathered in Brown University's Sayles Hall. Without the aid of notes, he delivered a highly eloquent talk on equal rights for the Negro.

He began by describing the Civil Rights Movement as "Part II of the American Revolution," in which all Americans will gain freedom. He later added that its non-violent methods gain respect and sympathy for the Negro and result in a minimum amount of bloodshed.

Mr. Farmer may well have pricked a few white consciences with the relation of his first encounter with racial prejudice. It happened when he was four years old. It seems that while in a small Texas town with his mother, he got thirsty and asked her to buy him a Coke. She told him he would have to wait until they got home. He then saw another little boy go into a drug store across the street, and asked his mother why he, too, could not get a Coke in the same drug store.

She answered — "Because he's white and you're colored."

In the same heart-rending eloquence, he went on to describe his narrow escape from a Mississippi lynch mob. He injected a bit of humor into this narrative by mentioning that several Negroes whom he was with, at the time, took refuge in a cemetery. "This," said Mr. Farmer, "Debunks the myth that Negroes are afraid of grave yards."

recently received a foundational grant of $5,000 to expand laboratory facilities.

In closing, Dr. Gauvey mentioned two things that impress him very much. The first is the sincere dedication of the faculty, each member working in his area to develop the school. "They all have tre-

In a still lighter vein, Mr. Farmer told a joke about a Mississippi Negro who had been hired by that state to go on television and "Tell how happy he was to be living in the South, and how he simply loved segregation." Just before he was to face the camera, he asked where the broadcast would be received, and was told that he would be seen all over the country. "You mean the people up North will be watching too," he asked.

"Yes, yes, the whole country" came the impatient reply. In a few seconds the camera's red light flashed 'on' and the Negro cried "HELP!"

It was quite obvious that Mr. Farmer is not terribly fond of most Southern Whites, but he did express confidence in President Johnson and also stated that the practicing of prejudice against Southern Whites, like the practicing of all harmful prejudice, is wrong.

In a call for white support of the Negro Cause Mr. Farmer refused to flatter the White People in the audience by bolstering the myth that the North is a paradise for Negroes. Instead, he boldly spoke out against housing discrimination and "de facto" segregation in public schools. He went on, stating his personal opinion that prejudice in the North was on the rise! Despite his frankness (or perhaps, because of it) the eighty per cent White audience rose at the end of his talk and applauded him for well over three minutes.

mendous loyalty," he said. The second concerned the students. Although he has not met the majority of students, he feels the ones he has met exhibit a sense of purpose, they are people who want an education. "They're not here because they have nothing better to do."

EDITORIAL

Let's Get Something Started!

One of the great voids here at Roger Williams is the sports program. All that is offered at the present time is basketball. In the recent past, Roger Williams produced championship hockey teams. Why not revive the sport? Why not start a baseball team, a ski team, a glee club, or any other activities that would enhance the school for prospective students, and instill some enthusiasm in those students already here.

Many students have expressed an interest in these different activities, but leadership seems to be lacking and nothing ever materializes.

Frank Viera, president of the Student Council disclaimed any responsibility of the council in supplying this leadership. "We will help a student organization financially," he said, "but they must first have a faculty advisor and a favorable financial statement prepared."

Dr. Gauvey, when asked what he thought of the future of sports here, said that he (and the school) would back a hockey team, a ski team, or any other athletic activity. But, he continued, sports are extra-curricular activities and as such should represent student initiative. If any student feels there is enough interest here to start a team he should bring the matter up before the Student Council. It is then their responsibility to appoint a committee from their ranks to co-ordinate the students and the faculty.

The catalog published by Roger Williams states that the social and extra-curricular life of the College is in the charge of the Student Council. The Student Activity Fee goes into a Fund for the support of all student organizations and activities. Committees of the Council are in charge of College social affairs, the athletic program and student convocations.

I have heard many students complain about the lack of sports here, especially hockey. Well, students, the next move is yours. If anyone would like to see more activities initiated, just attend the next Student Council meeting and let your requests be heard. I'm confident the council will carry the ball from there.

If they don't who will?

DRINKING ON CAMPUS

A few students welcomed the Christmas vacation with a song and a bottle. Their next morning regrets, however, didn't arrive until they returned to school two weeks later.

Mr. Piazza, director of student activities, received many complaints from members of the faculty concerning the students that had been drinking.

Mr. Piazza dealt severely with the guilty students and issued a stern warning that anyone caught in the future bringing liquor on campus may meet with immediate suspension and possible dismissal.

Frank Viera, president of the Student Council, discussed the drinking problem at their last meeting. He told the council members that it was their responsibility to report anyone they caught drinking on campus. The Student Council members agreed to deliver Mr. Piazza's warning to the students.

PHI KAPPA SORORITY

The Sorority sponsored Cake Sale, held on Monday, December 16, 1963, was quite a success. We would like to thank the students and faculty for their support. Congratulations are in order for Mr. Murgio on his winning the holiday-decorated cake.

The Phi Kappa Sorority would like to announce that applications for pledging may be obtained from the secretary in Room 205 at the close of this semester through the beginning of next semester. All girls interested in applying are welcome to fill out the necessary application. Pledging will commence soon after the start of the spring term.

MISS ROGER WILLIAMS

Plans for the Miss Roger Williams contest this year have already started. The exact time and date of the presentation has not yet been decided.

Some changes have been made in the format however, and we think they will add to the interest of the contest. Instead of having a preliminary election to select candidates, the "Quill" asked the different organizations in the school to choose a girl to represent them in the contest. The winner to be chosen from these candidates, will be decided by a school-wide election.

Trophies to be awarded are now on display in the bookstore.

PROFILE OF EDUCATORS

Mr. Theodore L. Tiffany, who now resides at 15 Church Street, Providence, formerly lived in Lincoln, Illinois.

In 1954 he graduated from Kalamazoo College, Kalamazoo, Michigan with a Bachelor of Arts degree, with majors in Philosophy and Psychology. While attending the college, Mr. Tiffany served on the campus radio station and was feature editor of the college newspaper.

During 1954 and 1955 he worked as a graduate student and research assistant in the department of Psychology at the University of Illinois.

Mr. Tiffany has also worked as Sales Promotion Writer for Pontiac Motors Division, General Motors Corporation.

In 1959, Mr. Tiffany received his Masters of Arts degree from the University of Illinois. His thesis was published in the Journal of Clinical Psychology, which is an accomplishment of some note.

Mr. Tiffany has also served as Registrar, Lincoln College, Lincoln, Illinois and Psychologist, Lincoln State School, Lincoln, Illinois.

Here at Roger Williams Junior College, he teaches psychology, sociology, and freshman orientation.

During his after school time, Mr. Tiffany sings bass for the Rhode Island Civic Chorale. In addition, he is a member of the Civic Chorale's publicity committee, responsible for radio and television publicity.

Mr. Tiffany's educational philosophy is similar to that of other teachers, but his method of carrying out this philosophy is quite interesting. He believes in making the student think for himself. When a student asks him a question and he gives that student a cut and dried yes or no answer, he is not helping him to think for himself. To stimulate thinking he often answers the student with a question the student then has to do some thinking on his own. More can be learned this way as was proved to this writer. When asked what his educational philosophy was, he reflected, "What do you think it is?" To quote Mr. Tiffany, "It is much more important to you as a student what questions you ask than what answers you get from others."

A portion of the large crowd that enjoyed the Christmas Dance sponsored by the Student Council.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

Tony Abbott played to an overflow crowd at the Student Council Christmas Dance held last December 13 at the Alpine Country Club in Cranston.

The dance got off to a slow start because of the late arrival of the band and the initial disappointment of those students under twenty-one who could not purchase liquor. It was not long, however, before this was forgotten and the dance floor was crowded.

Midway through the dance, the door prize was drawn by Dr. Gauvey. A large stuffed animal was awarded to Charley Rogers, holder of the winning ticket.

The dance was considered a success by the Council on two counts. First a poll of those attending the dance indicated that it was a social success. Secondly, a small profit was made on the affair, indicating that it was a financial success for the first time in recent years.

CANTERBURY CLUB

As of January 8, 1964, the meetings of the Canterbury Club have changed both in time and day. Instead of on Friday afternoons at 11:00 to 1:00, they are now Wednesday afternoons at 2:30 for the convenience of the members.

So far there has not been a large attendance at the meetings, but the group that comes is enthusiastic and interested. More students who wish to come, should come. The meetings are both interesting and enjoyable as well as educational.

There have been discussions on open-end stories made up by Rev. Lewis Stone, spiritual advisor. We have held several luncheons and there has been some bowling done by the members.

Dr. Way, advisor to the Club, said that he could make more of the meetings now that they are being held on Wednesdays as he does not have classes after 10:00. His help and advice is very much appreciated by the Club.

If you want to go somewhere to relax and smoke for an hour or so on Wednesday afternoons, why don't you drop in over at All Saints Parish House on Stewart Street for a cup of coffee.

IMMATURITY AT COLLEGE

by Thomas Dyson

Is it possible to distinguish a Roger Williams Junior College student from a high school student across the street? We believe that it is quite hard to tell the difference. The childish antics which go on in this school are found in junior high schools and high schools all over the state.

We would like to give a few examples of the immature students who attend Roger Williams Junior College.

Of course it is natural for girls to be interested in boys but not to the extent of being "boy-crazy". Most girls go through this stage when they are thirteen to sixteen years of age.

Everyone likes a good joke. However, girls who are constantly "giddy" do not belong in a college.

Every girl wants to be popular, but using attention getting devices and mechanisms is not the way to popularity.

Childish antics, such as passing notes and whispering in class do not belong in a junior college.

Many of the male students in this school are noted for making juvenile phone calls to the girls. Also, they have reputations for being narrow-minded and quick to pass judgement.

Another sign of immaturity is the writing of vulgar remarks on the desk tops. Many of the male students also enjoy repeating these and other vulgar remarks in the presence of the girl students. It seems as though almost every statement has a double meaning.

Quite a few of the male students are constantly bragging about their sex conquests, traffic tickets, failure on exams, or nightly drinking parties. These subjects make them feel like men. If they are men, however, they know it and do not have to prove it.

NEWMAN CLUB

The raffle sponsored by the Newman Club was very successful. We would like to thank all who co-operated with us in making it so successful. The raffle was held at 4:00 P.M. Monday, December 16, 1963, in the school lobby. The names of the winners were posted on the bulletin board.

The Club Christmas Party was held on December 21, 1963 at Anne LeBeau's house. A good time was had by all.

The Club will be host to the Regional delegates this month. This is an honor for our club as we are the only Junior College with a Newman Club in the region. We would like to do a good job and show the Senior college students that we can do just as well as they do. Our next meeting will be held on January 8, 1964.

The notes and rumors which were being passed around are other examples of immaturity. We, as young adults, should not believe, repeat, or add to the stories that float around Roger Williams.

Jealousy between extra-curricular activities does not belong in any school. If the organizations help, instead of hinder each other, much could be accomplished.

The best example of immaturity is the students giving the waitresses in the coffee shop a hard time. If we do not conduct ourselves as young men and women, the coffee shop will be closed to us.

In conclusion, we admit that this is a transitional period going from childhood to adulthood. Even so, we should assume the responsibility which corresponds with obtaining a higher education. In order to be treated as young adults, we must act accordingly.

OBSERVATIONS

Although we are a little disappointed, let's hope everyone had a good time the night of December 13, 1963.

Boys, what's new in the girl's lounge?

I hope the girl that went to Florida this past week had a nice time. Boy, what a tan!

Congratulations to P and D.

Who's the couple that spends Friday afternoons in the coffee shop? What do you find to talk about, A and M.

Good luck to the new sorority sister that's going steady.

We're all glad to see that John is back with us once again. We know you don't like school, John, but please think of a better excuse next time for being absent.

It's too bad that Ruthie in the Coffee Shop had to leave us. The gang will sure miss her. However, Kathy and Beverly, the new waitresses seem to be doing a fine job. They even wait on tables.

Hope everyone had a Happy New Year's Eve and did a lot of studying during the vacation because exams start the week of January 20.

Congratulations to Norm Champagne and his wife on the birth of David Norman. David checked in on January 6, 1964. Poor planning for a management student, missing the tax deduction.

THE DRAMATICS CLUB

The Dramatics Club has chosen for its major production the play Little Acorns, by Bettye Knapp. This three act play will be presented sometime in April here in the Y.M.C.A. auditorium.

Along with the major production, the club will produce The Objective Case, an off-beat drama by Lewis John Carlino. This one-act play will be featured along with Little Acorns.

Casting for the two plays will begin shortly after the copies of the play come in.

Mr. Rizzini is hoping that the members of the club will have a chance to get together to see some of the productions in the area. There are quite a few productions being presented in the immediate vicinity and all students who wish to go are asked to contact Mr. Rizzini as soon as bulletins are posted.

More students interested in art, make-up, costumes, and other behind-the-scene activities are needed to make the productions a success. If you wish to help in any way please contact Mr. Rizzini.

FASHIONS ON PARADE

by Dale Murchison

If you dreamed of having a white Christmas, your dreams not only came true for Christmas Day but for the rest of 1963. Now that 1964 has arrived, the snow and cold seem to have made themselves right at home.

Now you can be fashionable as well as warm by wearing boots. If your feet are cold the rest of you is cold.

Any type of boots will befine; tall, short, leather, rubber, pile lined, fur lined, with or without heels, and in a variety of colors. Whether it is for school, dress, or sport, boots make the costume.

For church and other dress occasions, boots with heels are just the thing. They may be knee length or less but they serve a dual purpose. For school or for sport, flat boots of any length are perfect. As well as keeping the feet warm, they give the legs a smooth, tapered look, especially with stretch slacks.

Bad weather does not have to spoil your outfit by forcing you to wear grubby, clodhoppers; on the contrary, make this bad weather a blessing in disguise by showing off your new, fashionable boots.

STUDENT PERSONNEL

Mr. Salvatore Piazza, as Director of Student Personnel, has many responsibilities. In the area of guidance and counseling, he endeavors to help any student seeking vocational, academic, and personal advice. In the area of placement and transfer, he advises students who wish to find both full-time and part-time working positions. In the area of follow-up, he conducts surveys to ascertain the whereabouts and status of past students of the school. In the area of testing, he administers entrance tests for counseling, achievement and aptitude tests. In the area of discipline, he is responsible for class attendance, and the handling of all problem students. He is also responsible for the general conduct of students in the school buildings and can take appropriate action when it is necessary. In the area of extra-curricular activities, he has general supervision of all school activities. This includes guiding students who wish to set up new organizations. These responsibilities, plus teaching psychology, sociology, and orientation and acting as advisor for the sorority, make Mr. Piazza a very busy man. However, he has said that he is never too busy to speak to any student who has a problem. Students are urged to make an appointment to see Mr. Piazza for help before their problems get out of hand.

Carl Walker conducting experiment at Brown University laboratory.

Carl Walker, an electrical engineering student here at Roger Williams, has been conducting a research experiment at Brown University since the beginning of the semester.

Carl, who intends to be a nuclear physicist, spends about five hours every Friday in one of the physics labs at Brown working on an experiment entitled "Nuclear Magnetic Resonance," in which he is trying to find the resonance frequency of protons in various substances. This experiment is usually conducted by physics majors in their junior and senior year at Brown.

This extra work was suggested by Dr. Hetzler and Mr. Sherman of Roger Williams, and the lab and equipment was made available by Dr. Hooper of Brown.

"The main difference between this work and working in the lab at Roger Williams," said Carl, is the time involved in setting up the equipment." "At Roger Williams each experiment has to be of such nature to allow the equipment to be set up and dismantled within the allotted class time, whereas most of my time here has been spent in setting up the equipment." "When I leave nothing is touched and I can pick up where I left off the previous week. I expect to be working here all next semester, due to the nature of the experiment, it will be some time before I start to get any concrete results."

Carl will continue his studies next year at Northeastern University in Boston.

THE BOOK STORE

Many students have unpleasant memories of the college bookstore because they must share such a large part of their earnings with them each semester. This is in payment of their tuition, fees and the purchase of necessary textbooks. These memories often blind them to the many things the bookstore has to offer them. In addition to selling paper and supplies at reasonable prices, a rack of paperback books is now offered to the students. This rack includes books required by instructors as supplementary reading plus many popular best sellers. The rack has been conveniently placed outside the counter so that the student may browse and leisurely select the books he wants. One additional advantage of purchasing from the college bookstore is that no sales tax is charged on any item.

As another service to the students, the bookstore is now taking orders for school rings. Rings are available in two sizes with a choice of stone color and cut. The student may have a ring made to his specifications, including the year he desires. This is an opportunity for any student, new or old, to purchase a ring.

The bookstore also carries Roger Williams jackets, sweatshirts, emblems, and traveling bags. Roger Williams stickers are available also at no cost to the student.

In addition, the bookstore handles the rental of parking spaces and lockers. The bookstore also serves as a lost and found department for books, coats, scarfs, umbrellas, and gloves. If you have misplaced any item, be sure to check with the bookstore. It may very well be there.

These are just some of the services offered by your college bookstore. Keep them in mind. They are offered for your benefit.

QUILL RAFFLE

The drawing for the "Quill" raffle was held at the Student Council's Christmas Dance. Mrs. Lena Sullivan of Newport was the winner of the stereo phonograph. Mr. Tiffany, a member of the faculty here, won the portable typewriter.

We would like to thank those students who purchased tickets for making the raffle a success. Special thanks go to the Phi Kappa Sorority for their help in selling tickets.

While passing out thanks, we cannot overlook Mrs. Mildred Brown and Mr. Robert Wall for their assistance in the drawing of the tickets.

KAPPA PHI

The Kappa Phi fraternity will hold elections on Sunday, January 12, for the purpose of electing officers for next semester. Running for re-election will be Don Clements, president; Edward Duffy, vice-president, and Charles Rogers, secretary.

Activities of the fraternity this semester included a party for the children at R. I. Childrens Center. The affair was considered very successful by both the fraternity and the directors of the institution.

The Kappa Phi will hold its first major dance of the year on January 25, at the Lampskin Club, Warwick Ave., Warwick. Music will be supplied and dancing will continue until 1:00 A.M. Tickets are $4.00 per couple and include buffet dinners.

KAPPA PHI ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

At a mass meeting last November, an alumni association of Kappa Phi Fraternity was formed and the following officers were elected: Dick Nassaney, president; Leo Plouffe, vice-president; Frank Viera, Treasurer; Terry Sheriden, secretary; Howie DeBeck, public relations officer, and Bill Oltman, sgt.-at-arms.

A resolution was adopted that the express aim of the association is to secure the necessary funds for a Fraternity House on the new campus which is slated to start in 1965.

The goal set in this resolution was $12.00 a year for each member. In conjunction with this, the active annual social activities fund association has pledged 50% of its balance for the Building Fund.

Grief! He comes like a thief,
On a dull, wet night.
In woe and disbelief,
He has his delight!

He takes great pain,

Yet — without good grief's dour bout
Could I value joy's sweet song?

R. W. J. C. FIVE TOP
DAVISVILLE and R. I. S. D.

Coach Jim Russo's Jolly Roger five scored two consecutive wins over the vacation, when they defeated the Davisville Seabees and R. I. S. D.

The game with Davisville was one of the closest and highest scoring matches that R. W. has played as the Jolly Rogers pulled the tilt in the last few seconds by the score of 101-100. The victory was due to a great team effort, sparked by the shooting of Ernie Medeiros, Mike Davis, and Ed Duffy. Medeiros grabbed the scoring honors by dropping in 28 points. Mike Davis followed a close second with his contribution of 26 points. Ed Duffy, a senior who is beginning to come into his own, added a vital 19 points to the cause. This win makes up for a one-point loss to the Seabees last season.

Five nights later, on the 17th of December Roger Williams scored a tremendous victory over our rivals from College Hill, by beating R. I. S. D. 89-73. Ernie Medeiros showed his true abilities that have made him the Jolly Roger high scorer when he hit for 41 points, only 4 short of the record set by Walt Checko last year. Number 2 in the scoring column against R. I. S. D. was senior Bob Archetto who dropped in 20 points. Ed Walsh, who has failed to show up in the scoring, showed his potential by adding 11 points to the victory. This victory makes it four in a row over R. I. S. D., as their last win over Roger Williams was back in 1961.

On December 19, Roger Williams lost a tough one to a talented Mitchell J. C. team from New London, Conn. The score was 89-70 in favor of the visitors. Mike Davis from South Kingston, beat out Ernie Medeiros for the scoring honors when he topped Ernie's 17 points by hitting for 19. Bob Archetto came in third for the tossing by contributing a 14 point total.

In Worcester, Mass., on the 6th of Jan., the Jolly Rogers ran into a man named Dick Peltier from Becker Junior College. This fine competitor from Worcester killed any Roger Williams hopes of winning that tilt when he dropped in 34 big points, to give his team a 88-73 win over the Jolly Rogers. Bob Archetto, who has been playing some great ball over the vacation, was the high man for R. W. Bob hit for 20 points, while Bob Hanley, another under-rated player, was second with 18 points. Ernie Medeiros, who has yet to miss the double figures mark, dropped in a total of 17 points to a losing cause.

Coach Jim Russo made the announcement that he expects his team to have a better second half this year, but it will be a tough grind for his Jolly Rogers, as they will be facing some competition. About the toughest, may be Saturday night the 11th of January, as the Jolly Rogers five will travel to Keaney Gym in Kingston to tackle a very strong U. R. I. freshman team. This tilt will be the first game, at 6:30, while the U. R. I. varsity takes on the Bears from Maine. The R. W. Five has been gaining on the freshman five in the past years, for last year, the Jolly Rogers were only beaten by 40 points.

On the 17 and 18 of January, R. W. will participate in its second tournament when they travel to Barrington High School to play Johnson & Wales in a local - sponsored tournament. Coach Russo urges and is hoping for a great student participation at this tournament, for our rivals from J & W and Barrington College will be there in full force. Admission is a dollar, and will go towards the local Providence athletic program which includes Roger Williams Junior College.

TOURNAMENT IN PENN. NETS TWO R. W. TROPHIES

The Roger Williams basketball team traveled to York, Penn. on the 27 of December and played in a Holiday Tournament that included teams from Ohio, Maryland and Penn.

The team left Providence on Friday morning the 27th via a bus paid for by the Trustees of the College, and arrived in York late that afternoon. That night, in the beautiful and spacious York Gymnasium, the Jolly Rogers lost their first game, to a tremendous team from Baltimore by the score of 108-70. Saturday afternoon, the competition from York Junior College was just as tough, as the R. W. team lost again 102-70. The third game was Saturday night, as Tiffin University from Ohio outclassed the R. I. Squad, 78-57.

However, R. W. received two awards for their play. Ernie Medeiros received a trophy for best Sportsmanship, while Mike Davis was given a trophy for Most Rebounds. These awards to members of the Jolly Rogers showed the rewarding experience gained by the team by participating in a tournament of this class, and although competition was much greater, the name of R. W. Basketball has been advancing somewhat in junior college circles.
