R W Student Council Elects New Members

The Roger Williams Junior College Student Council recently held elections for six replacements on the council. Newly elected members are: Jim Dorenkott, Dean Fish, Joyce Pleasant, George Richard, Irwin Gross, and Janet Pleasant.

This election was necessitated by the fact that the past members could not maintain the required Q.P.R. to keep their seats. The "Quill" realizes that this was due to the tremendous amount of work accomplished by the council last semester and the exhausting schedule of the members.....The "Quill" feels that the members of the council should have spent a little more time hitting the books instead of giving such a whole hearted effort to the council affairs as was done last semester.

At the meeting following the election, the council proceeded to allocate $1700.00???? for the use on the upcoming Student Council sponsored dance, featuring Gary U.S. Bonds? An allocation was also made to Flicks Unlimited, sponsors of the weekly film festival in the amount of $500.00. It is the consensus of the "Quill" staff that the films presented by "Flicks" have been valuable contribution to the education of RW students and will continue to be so.

The Council announced that it will require its committees to submit weekly progress reports on the work they are diligently engaged in.

The "Quill" wishes the council the best of luck in its adventures during the coming semester and hopes that students in general will take a more active part in the business of the council.

Phi Alpha Epsilon

During the past few months Phi Alpha Epsilon has been very busy planning and carrying through with a varied plan of activities. The Friday and Saturday before hell week we held a coffee hour, a day of tobogganing and a few other activities open to all those interested in pledging to our fraternity. We also sold bread for the March of Dimes on Sunday, February 5 and collected a total of approximately $200 for the organization.

The fraternity would like to welcome four new pledges in the fraternity; Allan Fortunato, Thomas Harris, David Sherman, and William Kyriakakis and wish them all the luck they need in their new responsibilities to the fraternity. Friday, March 17, we are going to hold an inter-fraternity mixer at the Club Momenais. Saturday, March 18, the fraternity will hold their semi-annual pledge formal at the Castle in Bristol, R.I.

OAE has many new activities planned for the future ranging from a minstrel to an Hawaiian dance. These plans will attract many new pledges to our fraternity and we must make the qualifications more rigid so as to improve the membership in and for those to come. There is only one direction our fraternity is headed and that is up and I would like to thank personally all those that have supported the fraternity during the past few months.

WEEDS OF THOUGHT

On the surface, foam and roar,
Restless heave in the sea,
Shingle rattle along the shore,
Gathering boom and thunder crash.

Under the surface loveliest forms,
Feathery fronds with emerald curl,
Treasures too deep for the raid of storms,
Delicate fringes of amber and pearl.

These, the strands of a carpet soft,
Freed by the current and borne aloft,
To show us the hidden work of God.

New Coach Ends Favorable Season

Coach Drennan's first year at Roger Williams ended on a happy note as the team defeated Worcester Junior College. The basketball team set a new school record this season by averaging 79.2 points per game. This wiped out the previous record of 75.3 points per game held by the 1960-1961 team. This year's team also tied both the best won-and-lost record by winning 50% of their scheduled games, and the most-consecutive-wins record by rolling over Worcester Industrial Tech, Bryant Junior Varsity, RISD, and Bristol College.

Hal Metts led the squad in scoring with 420 points in twenty-two games, thus averaging almost 20 points per game. The highest scoring record in the history of the school was held by Walt Checko with 471 points in 25 games. The second leading scorer was Curt Spiegel averaging 12.6 points per game. Curt also led the team in rebounding with an average of 14.7 rebounds per game.

The team is losing its co-captains this year. John Lambert, averaging 5.8 points per game, was one of the leading playmakers, and Bob Halligan, who averaged 6.2 points per game and is the second leading rebounder.

Those returning next year include Metts, Spiegel, Chris Kent, Bob Williams, Steve Hanley, Reggie Character, Paul Lynch, Dan Cliffe, and Ed Gaul. With ten out of twelve players returning and five new prospects, Coach Drennan is looking forward to an even better season next year.

One of the major influences on the team's improvement will be getting adequate practicing facilities, which are available at a fee. Therefore, there is a definite need for an increase in the basketball budget. It is interesting to note that while the Roger Williams team budget was under two-thousand dollars, the Johnson-Wales team spent approximately two-and-a-half times as much.

Next season's schedule should prove to be even more interesting for two reasons: first, the number of games will be increased from twenty-two to twenty-six games which will include the Brown JV; second, Roger Williams is now a member of the National Junior College Athletic Association in which the team could qualify for a national tournament.

In respect to this year's team, the coach stated that the morale of the team was the highest of any team he has been associated with. Also, the team was complimented for its behavior at every school it visited. Coach Drennan thus concluded that "This season was the most rewarding that I have ever spent coaching, because of the cooperation of the team, the faculty, the administration, and the student body."

Official College Notices

"All students are reminded that if they received one or more 'Absent' or 'Incomplete' marks for the Fall semester, it is their responsibility to arrange to make these marks up within the current semester. Dates for make-up exams are to be taken before March 31st or the absent mark will become an automatic F grade. "If an 'incomplete' mark is other than for failure to take the final exam, the student should see his instructor IMMEDIATELY, and arrange with the instructor to take the exam.

The Roger Williams Junior College school ring may now be purchased through the Bursar's Office. In order to insure delivery by the end of May, we must have all orders by the end of March. Rings will be sold at the rate of $30.00 for small ring and $45.00 for a large ring with a solid black. Rings will be made available for all classes and a deposit of $10.00 will be required.

Doctor Salentino is happy to announce that the students will have Good Friday, March 24, off!

Since classes will not be held on Good Friday the staff has also been give the day off! Happy Easter!

Ivy Papers Offer Draft Plan

by DOUGLAS H. PAAL

Five of the eight Ivy League newspapers agreed in principle last night to support a draft lottery system which would select people for military service at the age of nineteen. Under the plan, those chosen would be given the option of immediately going into the service or of completing four years of college.

The plan differs with that offered by President Johnson Monday night. The President's plan prescribes an end to graduate school deferments except for medicine and ministerial study, a lottery in which all nineteen-year-old youths would be informed once and for all whether or not they would serve, and undergraduate deferments that would allow those chosen to complete two years of college before serving in the military.

Once a student is selected, under the newspapers' plan, he will be permitted to continue his education uninterrupted for a maximum period of four years. After that period he will be expected to enter the service.

Those not selected will be free to pursue any plans whatever unless there is a national emergency. In that case they will once again be liable for the draft.

The proposal was worked out last night in a series of conference calls among the Ivy League papers at the instigation of the BROWN DAILY HERALD. The Columbia Spectator, the Daily Princetonian and the Yale Daily News felt they were unable to support the statement. Both the Spectator and the Princetonian papers maintained that if a student is selected he should be allowed to finish only that year of study in which he was called.

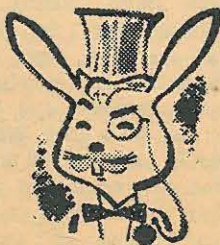

All the papers supported the lottery system as the most fair means of conscription.

Last week, a special Congressional committee chaired by retired general Mark Clark called for the continuance of the present draft system with some tightening upon deferments.

Introspectiveness of the Dean's Office

The Dean of Students Office has a very peculiar job. It is easy in some ways, difficult in others. In essence it must prepare the students for a fuller understanding of themselves and their relations to their school work. However, this involves two factors, A DEAN AND A STUDENT. The Dean may act upon the student directly, in person, or indirectly, as through a book.

As we have just mentioned, the Dean is only one factor in this complex situation. The student who learns in relation with the Dean as a guide. This relation between the Dean and the student cannot be subjected to a rule. No matter how many courses a Dean has taken in human growth, the laws of learning, and methods of guidance, he must still depend upon his insight, his sensitivity to the student's difficulties, and the understanding of the student's needs when the occasion arises.

This process, however, is an art. The essence of any art is creation and to carry out this function, the Dean becomes the artist. To create, one must work with a purpose, and trust to inspiration. The artist studies the products and methods of the past and works with these tools. He accomplishes his goal, however, through toil, labor, and pain.

By keeping well informed, the Dean will be able to make a bridge between the school and society. If the student can see no relation of what is being taught to him and how it can be applied in his future life, he will profit little or nothing from it. It is up to the Dean to bring these two worlds together making the student aware that the two are closely and necessarily connected.

Another function of the Dean is to attempt to build a bridge between youth and maturity. He must interpret adult life to the student and make him aware of such a change. It is necessary that he belong to both worlds to accomplish this task. Difficult as it is, it is possible and necessary and has been done by the best of Deans. He will be able to draw vitality and variety from the traits of youth which are still alive in him, and to know what it is to be a youth again without ceasing to be a man.

When we examine the many other functions that the Dean performs, it is evident that the work is a never ending process. The truly gifted Dean possesses the skill of developing the minds and bodies of our students. Despite human shortcomings, the Dean is a highly privileged individual.

Memo From The Editor

A student newspaper is only as good as the students it represents and representing the students is not an easy task, especially if the student body does not make an effort to reveal its opinion. By informing "The Quill" staff through letters of their interests, problems, and opinions, students can make the paper more sensitive to their wishes and needs.

"The Quill" will be used as an informative agency and as a tool for students, as well as faculty, who desire to contribute literary materials. However, the wish of the "Quill" is not to become a scandal sheet for individuals who wish to transfer their personal hatred by contributing humiliating and discrediting articles. Those who submit articles for publication must sign their names and be willing to defend their articles. This does not mean that the author's name needs to be printed, for just as a doctor protects his patients, and editor has the ability to protect his contributors.

At times the "Quill" staff will take a position in matters which will be considered controversial but we do so only when we feel that the "Quill" by taking a stand will benefit all those concerned, namely the student body. Anyone who disagrees with our position is always welcomed to submit an article stating so!

The "Quill" mailbox is in the library; make it work for you!

A Portrait Of A Women

Do you remember the years of adolescence when life used to be a constant outpouring of energy and a ceaseless quest for new skill, new experiences and most of the time, the truth itself? Do you remember the time when you used to embrace more than you could hold, and stir up more than you could quiet? Do you remember how you used to fly to extremes without consideration of the means or the ends? Do you remember, before you became sophisticated and got to know all about women, how you ted those chosen with the understanding that they would serve later.

The papers further urged that "post-graduate deferments (for men selected by lottery) be extended only to occupational areas deemed essential to the national interest."

Finally, the papers differed with the Presidential commission, asking that present 2-S deferments be retained to the completion of students' undergraduate education.

used to shut them out of the genius of your youth? Then that moment in your life when you looked into a girls eyes for the first time, and discovered a creature that reminded you of birds that lost their way flying back from higher regions; something more exciting, more sensitive, more vulnerable, more wild, and more strange.

I can still remember the night, the dance; an endless sea of colors, shapes, faces, smiles and bright eyes; all swelling into waves of joy. I have never regretted anything as much as I regretted that night, not having learned how to dance. Then I saw her. She was sitting across the room looking at me. She smiled, and I felt wild and free as the wind, true as the sun, beautiful as a racehorse, strong as a torrent, and tall, tall as a god or a man. Neither of us could dance. I did not know how, and she could not get up from her wheel-chair; so we talked, and laughed, and the tiny creature led me into a paradise.

Later on, when in this man's diseased territory, I too got infected by the germ of sophistication, the tender dream faded away under the vicious attacks of a monstrous mind. But somehow, even now, not even in the worst moments of my frustration with the female race, I have ever thought of that girl with regret; because in her eyes that night I discovered proof of my most tremendous capacity, my manhood.

Have you ever considered how many remarkable ways men have invented just for the sake of proving to themselves that they are men? Have you considered the number of trials to which they submit themselves to see if they are man enough to survive them and are never satisfied? It seems that only in the eyes of a woman can our timid souls satisfy their craving for assurance. Nowadays when my manhood grows more and more inadequate under the savage demands of my mind, I look girls in the eyes, and hope.

Over the weekend a Presidential commission proposed by a narrow majority the establishment of a lottery system of selection, the abolishment of the 2-S deferments, and the drafting of 19-year-olds first.

The newspapers opposed the recommendation of the Presidential commission ending undergraduate deferments. Citing "inconsistency" with the commission's judgment that education "is essential to the improvement of the entire social and economic fabric of our society," the papers maintained that deferments must be permit-

Kappa Phi Kappers

The start of a new semester brought many activities to the brothers of Kappa Phi. Help week was about to start and the brothers had numerous plans for the pledges.

As help week started the pledges and brothers of Kappa Phi found themselves very busy in Fall River. The project this semester which Kappa Phi undertook was the repainting of the two main rooms at the Deaconess Home in Fall River, Mass. This project took three days in which to complete; all the pledges and brothers who assisted in the project are to be congratulated on doing a fine job.

Hell Week followed Help Week and this brought on added agony to the pledges. This week consisted of a day of washing the brother's cars at Roger Williams Park, the traditional trip to downtown Providence on Thursday night, and continuous harassing throughout the week. As an added luxury this semester the pledges all had free trips with all expenses paid to all parts of Rhode Island. On Hell Night the pledges all enjoyed the banquet given them by the Brothers, and some inquired as to when another was going to be held. At the close of Hell Night the fraternity had accepted eight new brothers, Tom Tunny, Lenny Berke, Ron Roake, John Nicolace, Al Raposa, Gary Farias, Craig Limpy Stedman, and Dick Hagan.

The following week a pledge party was held for all the pledges and brothers of Kappa Phi. The party had just seemed to be getting into full swing, being led by Bob Pontes and Tom Danakas, when it had to end abruptly. After a brief period of organization, about an hour or so, the hall was cleared and everything was back to normal. The fraternity would like to thank John Nicolace for getting the hall for the pledge party.

Recently Kappa Phi Fraternity was recognized at S.M.T.J. and a chapter has been started there.

The fraternity would also like to congratulate Doug Adler on becoming a brother of Kappa Phi.

In the month of April Kappa Phi Fraternity plans to hold its biggest dance of the year in which five top bands will be featured. This dance will be open to all colleges and schools so be on the lookout for the time and date.

Our Politics Club works closely with the clubs at other colleges and universities located throughout the state.

The Politics Club can be both enjoyable and rewarding for those students who enjoy a close fraternal friendship with fellow students, and who want to work as a club and accept the responsibilities and challenges that are so prevalent in an organization.

Newman Club News

Second Semester has brought about many interesting discussions in the different school activities. One of these is the Roger Williams Newman Club.

A few of the subjects being discussed or about to be are the celibacy of priests, interfaith marriage and pre-marital sex. Also, many other touchy subjects of this generation are brought out in the open in frank classroom debates.

All students interested in learning how the in-generation feels about what is happening in the world today are invited to attend the meetings which are periodically posted.

One subject of interest which was discussed in length last semester was that of Birth Control.

On January 18 Dr. Johnson, the director of health service at Brown and Pembroke spoke to Newman members and guests at an evening meeting. Dr. Johnson lectured on various methods of contraception and their percentage of accuracy. Also, he touched upon the subject of venereal disease and their effect in pregnancy. At the end of the talk a question and answer period was held. An enjoyable as well as an educational time was had by all who attended.

Anyone interested in attending meetings or wishing any information about the Newman Club at Roger Williams should contact Mr. Davis or one of the officers Regina Klunberg, president, Maureen Gagne, secretary and Robin Geraid treasurer.

March Of Dimes

Phi Alpha Epsilon fraternity and Phi Kappa Sorority worked with Fraternities and Sororities from R.I.C. to make the March of Dimes Cranston Bread Sale.

The students went out in groups of two and three to a car. They went house to house requesting donations in return for a loaf of bread.

The sale was run from the home of Miss Carol Cataldi under the auspices of the State Teen-age chapter of the March of Dimes.

The second semester is off to a good start for Phi Kappa due to our very successful Annual Sweetheart Ball held on February 11, 1967 at the Sheraton Biltmore from 8-12 p.m. The Ed Drew Band selected the queen from the girls at the dance and Miss Regina Klineberg presented her with a bouquet of long stemmed red roses. Another very special presentation was made to Miss Ann Mac Carone retiring president. Each sister contributed to her gift of a ring with the official seal of Phi Kappa engraved on the top. Needless to say, Ann was quite surprised.

This semester our president Ann MacCarone didn't return to Roger Williams and therefore a vacancy had to be filled. Our new slate of officers is: president, Regina Klineberg; Vice president, Robin Girard; recording secretary, Pamela Bernard; corresponding secretary, Muriel Hartnett; treasurer Carol Miccolas; sargent at arms Barbara Kochan; and social committee chairman, Donna Boadway. Congratulations to all the new officers.

With Valentines Day came a beautiful long stemmed red rose for each sister. Robert Pontes, president of Kappa Phi presented the roses to the sisters in behalf of all the fraternity brothers. Thank you again!

Members of Phi Kappa participated in the March of Dimes Bread March on Sunday, February 26, in the city of Cranston. Along with other organizations, the girls passed out bread to each contributor of this worthy cause. We received recognition in the Providence Journal on Monday, February 27.

For the first two weeks in March every sister has been busy passing out identification cards to the student body. These cards bearing the students name and college number identify him as a student at Roger Williams Junior College.

On March 5, the sisters of Phi Kappa met with a number of girls from S.M.T.I. who are interested in forming a second chapter of Phi Kappa. If all goes well, Beta Chapter should be formed by September 1967.

Our future plans include a college mixer jointly sponsored by Phi Kappa and Alpha Epsilon Sorority. It will be held after our April vacation, so look for the posters concerning this event.

Alpha Epsilon

Alpha Epsilon will celebrate St. Patrick's Day this year by joining with the two fraternities and Phi Kappa Sorority, in a combined Fraternity---Sorority Dance, on March 17th.

Alpha Epsilon and Phi Kappa Sorority are planning a jointly sponsored mixer this April 14th. The two sororites hope that this dance will help to promote friendlier relations between the college's two sororites. Let's face it girls, we're outnumbered here and it might help to make things easier if we were all friends.

JOBS AVAILABLE IN EUROPE

Grand Duchy of Luxembourg—The American Student Information Service, with headquarters in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, is now accepting applications from U.S. college students who wish to work in Europe next summer. The ASIS can place students in temporary summer work in Great Britain, France, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Spain, Sweden, Finland, Norway, Luxembourg, Belgium, Holland, Austria, Israel and Liechtenstein.

NEW JOB OPENINGS

ASIS has many new job openings within categories that include resort hotel work, office work, factory work, hospital work, child care work, ship work, construction work, farm work, sales work, and camp counseling work. Wages range to $400 a month for the highest paying positions in West Germany and the working conditions and hours are exactly the same as those of the Europeans with whom the students work. In most cases room and board are provided free but if not, the student worker lives independently in the city where he is working. In any case living accommodations are prearranged.

ORIENTATION IN EUROPE

Every student placed in a summer job in Europe attends a 5-day orientation period in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg that includes cultural orientation tours to Germany, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg blackboard sessions, on the scene language practice, and lectures given by European university professors. Although there is usually no foreign language requirement for the jobs, students are given the opportunity to experience native European situations during the orientation period. Blackboard sessions and talks cover such subjects as how to save money while in Europe, low cost transportation, shopping discounts and inexpensive living accommodations. ASIS claims that this do-it-yourself, on the scene method of preparation is the only way to adjust rapidly to the European way of life.

The ASIS, in its tenth year of operation, also supplies job applicants, at no extra cost, with a complete set of language records of the language of the country in which the applicant will be working, a student pass allowing the bearer student discounts throughout Europe, complete health and accident insurance while in Europe, and a comprehensive information service about living and traveling in Europe.

LOW COST TRAVEL

The ASIS also offers travel arrangements that greatly reduce the cost of the summer in Europe. Student applicants are also free to make their own travel arrangements to and from Europe. ASIS expects that a great many students participating in the charter flights sponsored by the school will want a summer job in Europe.

The purpose of the ASIS job-in-Europe program is to provide every college student with the opportunity to see Europe, to increase his cultural knowledge through travel and at the same time to earn and save money. Students with limited budgets would not otherwise be able to see Europe. The student worker also has a golden opportunity to acquire a speaking knowledge of a foreign language.

Students interested in working in Europe should write to Dept. I American Student Information Service, 22 Avenue de la Liberté, Luxembourg City, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, for the ASIS 36-page booklet which includes a complete listing and descriptions, with photographs, of jobs available and job applications. Send $2 with each inquiry to cover the cost of the material, overseas handling and air mail postage.

Hockey Notes

After gaining victories over Dean Jr. College and Nichols College, the Roger Williams hockey team blanked a game RISD team at the RI Auditorium, 2-0. For the boys it was their first home game their third straight victory.

Peter Scull opened the scoring for the Netops in the second period on a beautiful rink-length solo dash which he finished off by neatly firing the puck into the upper right hand corner of the goal. The second goal came late in the second period as John Gillooly passed the puck to his wing, Roger Davis, but the puck bounded off the skate of one of the RISD defencemen and into the net. This put Roger Williams ahead 2-0 and it remained so, as neither team could manage to score in the third period.

Peter Scull, a standout all year, was injured just after the second goal came, and unfortunately, is out for the remainder of the season. He received a broken and separated shoulder.

The RISD team was better than most had thought, and if it were not for the fine shut-out goaltending of Steve Powers, the score could have easily been reversed. Mike Finnegan played his usual fine game along with his linemates Frank McCaffrey, Jay Brown, and Barry Peterman. The defense of Peter Vernet and Bruce Richardson gave the RISD boys a rough time of it all the way.
