CALI Lessons

November 4, 2022

With the end of the semester and finals quickly approaching, some of you may be searching for resources that will aid you in your studying.

CALI or The Center for Computer-Assisted Legal Instruction is a non-profit consortium of law schools, law libraries, and other related organizations. CALI tools, authored by expert law professors and law librarians, help enhance your study of legal concepts and legal research.

The law library offers free access to several CALI tools including CALI Lessons. CALI Lessons consist of over 1000 interactive lessons in over 40 legal subject areas. Lessons are accessible via mobile devices as well as via the CALI website. Lessons are divided into first year lesson topics and upper-level lesson topics.

When signing up for access to the CALI lessons, use the law school's authorization code from orientation. If you do not have this code, please ask a reference librarian. CALI has so many fantastic resources for research (including a legal research coloring book authored by two of your favorite RWU Law Staff Members), for the study of substantive law, and for general legal fun.

CALI is also a source for free eBooks, including the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure, Civil Procedure, Criminal Procedure, Evidence; and for Lawdibles (10 minute audio recordings by law professors answering specific law school questions).

Don't forget, if you have any questions or need assistance using the Law Library's resources, please ask your friendly librarians! You can stop by the library or email us at lawlibraryhelp@rwu.edu.

Exam Study Resources

November 18, 2022

As finals loom over us, it is a great time to take advantage of the study aids and eBooks that the library has to offer. What can be better than free?

In terms of study aids, we have extensive guides that encompass a multitude of subjects, ranging from civil procedure to sales. You can find them on our study aids guide page. They provide helpful resources such as book recommendations, apps, ways to test yourself, and different options that cater to a variety of learning styles.

West Academic also offers series, like the Acing Series, Concepts and Insights, Short & Happy Guides, Nutshell Series, and Exam Pro. All of these materials are available online and we have some in our reserve collection if you want to look at a physical copy.

You can search our library catalog for eBooks or go to one of our specific guides that give you more applicable information. Aspen Learning Library and Ebook Central are great resources. You can access these resources on campus or at home.

We want to support you so that you can succeed. If you need additional reference help or assistance accessing any of our guides or study aids please email LawLibraryHelp@rwu.edu or make an appointment with a librarian.
