Alum's Provocative, and Deeply Personal Story Gets Attention

Posted by David Logan on 11/19/2013 at 01:39 PM

After a career working for a nuclear defense manufacturing company, Jenna Wims Hashway's father died from lung cancer. Now his daughter has taken steps to shine a light on the health issues associated with the industry and the federal program designed to help those workers and their families. Here is a link to the initial story, published in the September/October RI Bar Journal and here is a link to the front page story that appeared in the Attleboro Sun Chronicle.

Hashway was valedictorian of the RWU Law class of 2011 and is currently serving as law clerk to the Chief Justice of the RI Supreme Court, Paul Suttell.
