Cast Your Vote, Have You Heard?

To help our College become fully operational, a number of faculty committees with student representatives have been organized. However, the student members on these committees have not yet been elected. In order to be fair to all students, and to give everyone an equal opportunity to get on a particular committee, open elections will be held on Friday, October 17th and Monday, October 20th.

Any interested student may put his or her name up for election simply by attending the meeting called for a particular committee. A student who cannot attend the meeting in person may have a friend attend and put his name up for election.

The above procedure has been designed to avoid any kind of committee appointments. When the student government has developed a new constitution and has developed a more equitable election procedure, new committee members will be elected. However, this may take some time, and many important decisions must be made soon. So if you are interested in getting in on the action, attend the meeting in the area of your interest and put your name up as a candidate.

Students attending the respective committee meetings will elect the various representatives by themselves. So if you wish to be counted, attend the committee elections.

The committee meetings and their times are as follows:

Friday, October 17th
Admissions, Room 14 - 1:30 a.m.
Curriculum, Room 1 - 12:30 a.m.
Standards, and Evaluation. Room 14 - 1:30 a.m.
Student Affairs, Room 7 - 2:30 a.m.
Library, Room 7 - 2:30 a.m.
Monday, October 20th
Special Events, Room 7 - 2:30 a.m.

Give Peace A Chance

Wednesday, October 15, students and college faculty across the country are taking time off from their daily routine to work for peace.

Here at Roger Williams we will devote the day to discussing and protesting the war in Vietnam. In the spirit of making school relevant and meaningful for each student there will be a Teach-In, small group discussion, petitions, canvassing, and conditions permitting a parade.

At an open meeting Tuesday, October 12 interested students and faculty, voted against closing the school in order to have the right to protest. It was decided, rather, to continue the learning process directing our attention to a very significant problem - our involvement in Vietnam.

For this is really the writers' opinion that this occasion will demonstrate in this time in history when the world is changing so often and so quickly to understand it. By understanding we are better prepared to make the world a better place for ourselves and for mankind. We have to develop honesty and love to replace the ingrained habits on war as a viable solution to our conflicts.

To the veterans of the war in Vietnam, especially those injured or disabled, Wednesday's activities is not intended to demean or minimize the sacrifice and risk you endured in the fulfillment of your patriotic duty. Rather it is the time that American people are asking that no more of its sons be sent to Vietnam to die or be maimed. No veteran should feel the need to defend his participation in this war. Every veteran should, however, think about whether he wants this war to coninue and if the nations of the world can survive if we support their waging war to solve their geocopolitical, economical, religious, racial, and class conflicts.

For those who know nothing about the war and are reluctant to join because everyone seems so knowledgeable, this is why we are having a Teach-In and rap sessions. It is for your benefit. Everyone should strive to learn something new about the war that day. We are all subject to parental authority or peer group pressure. This is when their views may not match the many. This day we should forget those influences and dig into our own hearts and minds to discover how we feel about this war and war in the future. We all have a tremendous responsibility in this time in history when the world is changing so often and so quickly to understand it. By understanding we are better prepared to make the world a better place for ourselves and for man-
tion to our conflicts.

A TRIBUTE
The front page of the Quill's last issue was the most difficult page to set in the last two years - difficult not in length or terminology, but rather in the nature of what the page said. It came as a shock to us all to connect with the college, and is something which we are hard to believe. There are no appropriate words to describe how this man felt about this school, but there are words to describe how it felt about him.

It was through the newspaper that I learned of the passing away of Dean George Douglas. I read on his judgement quite closely. He was a man who always felt a deep need to relate to the students and their problems.

I gave of his time and expertise frequently. In hopes that those around him could benefit from what he had to say. He was a prime mover of the student government, clubs and other activities around the college. Discipline was never one sided in his thinking or in actions while coping with the situation.

For this tribute to be effective, it must be short. Before I end, I would like to plant a thought in the minds of the Administration, Faculty, and Students of this college. In tribute to a man who gave so much for this institution; it would seem only to fitting to create the George J. Douglas Memorial Scholarship beginning in the Academic Year 1970-71.

DON'T SPOIL IT
During my past four years at Roger Williams, I have been looking forward to coming to Bristol in the most enthusiastic way. I have been told by all of the Administration that it would function along with Providence as one campus. Well in order to say that Bristol is willing and trying to get along with Providence as one campus, however Providence doesn't seem to want to pull their share of the load.

I would like to relate to you what might be a small occurrence, however it is something to show that Providence is not trying. Bristol and Providence put on an "Orientation Weekend" as all students know. It was managed by three students, from the Bristol campus, it was all their idea, and they worked damn hard! They received full cooperation from the Faculty, Administration, and Staff of the Bristol campus. However, when they contacted the Dean of Students, of the Providence campus, they were told, did he not have time to attend a meeting that he was supposed to be in a half way; and unless contacted formally he was not interested. Well I ask you what is a Dean of Students who doesn't care about his students unless we go through all the formalities.

The incident would like to state again upon the final planning, just before everything started, I called the Providence campus, and asked the "Security Officer" if it was possible that we borrow the Providence, "Roger Williams College" Van. I was told that it would be possible if I, or one of the other two "guys" running the weekend, left our personal automobiles with him for the period of time we had the truck. Now I didn't want to leave my car, and I know you wouldn't either. Later to my knowledge the Dean of Students of the Providence campus came to Bristol and spoke with Dean Goldberg. He told him that on Friday, September 27th at 5:30 p.m. he would have the truck delivered and Dean Goldberg would thenassume responsibility. Well needless to say Dean Goldberg and myself waited until 5:45 p.m. and there was no Dean McKenna, no keys, and no truck! As a result we had to rent another truck from the U-Haul Co., to replace the Roger Williams truck. Dean McKenna did not even call to tell us the truck would not be there. I know this might be a small occurrence, but if Providence and Bristol can't share a College owned truck, I ask how can both of the campuses function as one.

On behalf of the student body, I would like to thank the Bristol Faculty, Administration, and Staff, for all the assistance they gave in presenting Roger Williams College with an Orientation Weekend.

SPOLLERS!
I don't wonder ever stuffed hanging chairs with modernistic computer desks, or the full range of gimmicks up on them from miniature computers to electric paper sharipers. I don't even expect a comfortable chair.

But it is hard to believe that the college does not recognize the existence of left-handed students. This can be witnessed by anyone who is left-handed and has been in attendance in the large lecture hall. I've tried sitting normally and writing on the desk, my hands, but all that was accomplished was a bloody nose when the desk flipped over and hit me in the face! I wish the plates of life well so much for modern construction. As it stands now, I will have to carry around my own portable desk.

IAE Billboard

On behalf of the brotherhood of Phi ALPHA Epsilon Fraternity, I would like to welcome all Freshmen and new students to our college community both here in Bristol and in Providence.

In this column, I would like to acquaint the students with fraternal life and to let the student body know that IAE is very much alive and working for the betterment of the school.

It is now that I tell you about the "biggest" of the Social Calendar, sweet friends and contacts. It's at the Venues De Mils Restaurant, 36 Somerset St., Bristol, Oct. 31. If you bring your witch "hat" or your beard, bring $2.50 (or maybe have bar pay half). If you can't find a "children cleaning cutie" then it's $2.50 (twice the bargain at half the price). You'll be hearing it from the bowling sound of the Wolf Pack" as you're bowling yourself at the open bar. I'll be there, the one howling loudest.

Before I go any further there's something that I'd like to say. We started off a new year in a new school, having all the things college have. And, one of those things was homecoming. We probably wouldn't have had that if it wasn't for the giving of countless hours, sweat, and downright hard work from three guys. Two of whom are my brothers and the third a very good friend, Bill (Zorka) Kyriakakis, Richard (Hoppy) Cook, and Jimmy (Zeus) Alston. A job very well done, a vote of confidence from IAE, and a hope the students of R. W. C. appreciate it.

Here's something for the people of Providence. A beautiful building does not the campus make. It is the minds and heads of the people who walk across it. It's the people on the campus who prove what the school's made of. Roger Williams College is one school beware how far around the globe may spread us, we are one, unity in learning, unity in school spirit, and unity in the awareness of the problems of our brothers. There's a great kinship between students, brotherhoods and sisterhoods all around the world; no matter what school one may happen to go to.

If anyone in Providence would like to become a brother of Phi Alpha Epsilon contact any brother and receive all information about the smore Oct. 19. In Bristol, pledging will be second semester. Now from my penthouse room high above the bustling Metropolis of East Providence I bid happy trails. And leave you with this one thought giggles are like little bubbles; they give you gas.

Graduate Record Exams

PRINCETON, N. J. — Educational Testing Service announced today that undergraduates and others preparing to go to graduate school may take the Graduate Record Examinations on any of six different test dates during the current academic year.

The five test dates are December 13, 1969; January 17, February 28, April 25 and July 11, 1970. Equivalent late fee and registration deadlines apply to these dates. Choice of test dates should be determined by the requirements of graduate schools or fellowships to which one is applying. Scores are usually reported to graduate schools five weeks after a test date.

The Graduate Record Examinations include an Aptitude Test of general scholastic ability and Advanced Tests measuring achievement in 21 major fields of study. Full details and registration forms for the GRE are contained in the 1969-70 Bulletin of Information for Candidates. The Bulletin also contains forms and instructions for requesting transcript service on GRE scores already on file with ETS. This booklet may be available on your campus or may be ordered from: Educational Testing Service, Box 995, Princeton, New Jersey 08540; Educational Testing Service, Box 1952, Berkeley, Calif. 94701; Educational Testing Service, 960 Grove Street, Evanston, Illinois 60201.
