Student Senate of Prov. Campus

The first meeting of the newly elected Student Senate for the school year 1969-70 was called to order on Tuesday, 21 October, by Acting President William Brady. The first order of business was the election of the Providence Senate officers. Al Hemond was declared the only man to receive enough grass roots support and recognition of his hard work to swing the office of President. In quick succession, William Brady as Vice President, Mit. Modet as Treasurer, and Elaine Bas as Secretary were all duly elected by the student body. At, with his thorough preparation, presented the slate of standing committee chairmen. His appointments were: Social-Sam Ro, Business-Reader, and Meden (Treasurer), Constitution-Trevor Karchb, Club Accept-

Dr. Way Scholarship

The J. Harold G. Way Scholarship Fund at Roger Williams College, started a few years ago, now totals roughly $35,000. When the amount of $10,000 is reached, $500 will be available in scholarships to Roger Williams students, $50 to a Providence student, and a $100 amount to a Bristol student. Dr. Way, whom the scholarship fund is named after, has taught at Roger Williams and has taught at the college for 25 years. It is a fitting balance of his career at Roger Williams.

New Fraternity at Roger Williams

A new Fraternity is now going through the recognition process on the Providence Campus. The only Fraternity left in the area to gain recognition from the Student Council is to be taken up at the next meeting. We, the Brothers and Mr. Friedle, our

Ode To An Egotistical Manic

There are over twenty miles between the towns of Providence and Bristol. In each of these towns resided a college in the name of Roger Williams. However, in fact they are each a separate entity, in that one attending Roger Williams Providence will seldom or never talk a class at Roger Williams Bristol, and vice versa. The issue of cooperation has fallen to us, the students. Should Roger Williams Providence and Roger Williams Bristol remain one entity in spirit as well as name? This is a most disturbing question, for it seems that there is no love between each campus by the other.

The Social Committee was given the task of lining up the Convocation Dinner for Senate this year, for Wednesday, 29 October. The main topic of discussion was allocation of student funds between the two campuses. The problems inherent in our separate colleges were discussed at length and much was made on the lack of communication between Bristol and Providence campuses.

The free period of Thursdays was selected as the regular meeting time. Upon adjournment, the students were last seen conversing with their respective counterparts concerning various campus problems.

According to Vice-President Williams, the 2nd annual dinner could be available in scholarships to students.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:  Concerning our much unpubli-ished interests, our people are closely advanced, but I have come to our attention. The monetary horseplay may be illegal as well as unfair for the individuals to the extent of all. Thus we must stop encouraging them and seek a solution to the problem as soon as possible.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Masten & Co.

In regard to the October 14 edition of The Quill, I wish to express my views:

1. Would the editors in Bristol please tell me how it can be said that the editorial board is sunk in the last two years? Bristol is not even open when the Dea-son is not in residence. Motor staffs, other organized activities, etc. have all been anyotherly attended as scheduled and never went to work as scheduled.

Bristol staff is mired in the situation.

2. It is a kind thought but a starved idealism to suggest a scholarship in the name of Dean. Such a tribute would serve as an unjust burden upon Student Activity Fees for the source from which we could choose.

However, a more realistic tribute would be to dedicate a building or a hall, or even a classroom for all the staff.

Respectfully,
William Brady Former Quill Editor

Touring the students, the following:

Elections are completed, a new administration and their office, the Ghost.

Parking Spaces

With cold weather rapidly set-in, and snow showers constantly being put to the test by parking in fields, all students experience deep concern of exactly where to park. In talking to Vice-President Edwin Hallenback last week, some relief will be given in the immediate future.

A new 350 space parking lot will be ready for this college no later than Nov. 3rd. This parking lot will be located between the Milne Site and the Riley access road. In that parking lot there will also be a motorcycle circle, which will be able to accommodate approximately twenty bikes.

Mr. Hallenback at the same time expressed concern over students parking in the faculty lot.

Because of the lack of space to date, offenders of this parking regulation have not been dealt with.

However, as soon as the new lot for student parking is ready, violations will be immediately towed away.

STEWNSNEWSVIEWS

It has come to my attention, thus several inconsequential mi-fortunes, that the Bristol office of the Quill, the literary masterpiece you are now reading, is nonexistent, which is rather unfortunate, for the readers as well as the staff.

It has been said, "Man cannot carry the wisdom of the ages in three or four notebooks" . . . Mr.
Grandorge, it has been said, hasn't been getting too much since these days. It's a question of character, however that's de-dined. There must be one place ... It really is interesting how a commune turns into a campus when there is fruit on the grass ... Speaking of grass, aren't you ... All you local students that signed up to live on campus when the dorms opened unperk your suitcases. Maybe next year . . .

Keep your cigarettes off the new carpeting, as it melts ... Something must be done about the facilities at the new bookstore.

The Business Club at the Providence Campus of R.W.C. met on Thursday, October 16, at 11:00 a.m. The Club now consists of a small number of business students, but is expected to grow as activities get under way.

Electives were held, with the following positions being filled by a majority vote: President—Serge Boudreau, Vice-President—Bill Wolf, Treasurer—Mike Hardick, Secretary—Bruce Hampton, Public Relations—Gary Phillips.

Scheduled guests include bankers and various men in industry. Activities, such as field trips, projects, and films, will be presented to members in the very near future.

The Business Club is for the students and run by them. With support from the student body, the members hope to make R.W.C. the place where things can happen. There are practical and limitations as to what can be done. Members in the Business Club have discussed assisting the club in starting up again at the Providence Campus. Club plans are also being made to start a place center and to add to the bookkeeping a yearbook, which R.W.C. doesn’t have.

Your support is needed. Anyone interested in attending a Business Club meeting is welcome. Meetings are held on Thursdays at 11:00 a.m. in room P-2. Come in and express your ideas — an idea that could be the beginning of something big. P. S.

Step Two: With the moon full all you need is the background music.

With greater availability of 8-track prerecorded tapes you might be inclined to buy an 8-track deck for the car. You can buy the deck with transistors that it will not be stationary in the car. There are many companies that manufacture decks for home use. These work off your stereo unit at home. There are portable 8-track decks available too. What the 8-track tape is made up of are four, two-track stereo recordings that are taped parallel. At the end of each one of the two-track stereo recordings there is a signal, which is recorded into the tape, that moves the playback head up or down to the next set of tracks. There is a home unit tape recorder that can record on 8-track tapes.

Roger Williams College is anticipating a new and unique basketball schedule for the 69-70 season. The team is unique in the respect that each of their opposition last opposition had a non varsity squad. It is also the first time that it has employed a full time athletic director. The coach has more minus and has been employed on all schools that come for three years. There is an assistant coach that the college has and the junior varsity squad.

The team itself is full of spirit and excitement and after only one week’s practice sessions. The team consists of around twenty-three players that will be divided up into the two teams. The players range from six feet to six feet six and each consists of one or more specific skills such as rebounding, speed, shooting, accuracy, etc. There is a lot of incentive for each player to improve his game. The coaches are eager to work with the players.

Kappa Phi News
Bristol, Providence

Kappa Phi Fraternity has begun pledging on the Providence campus this week. Friday night there was a party for all those interested in pledging which was held in Cumberland and was enjoyed by all who attended. Sunday night for the pledges we had a smaller to acquire them with the rules and regulations of the pledging period.

Any student interested in pledging (Providence) and who did not have the opportunity to participate in the above functions can still obtain an application from any brother, until the end of this week.

On behalf of the brothers of Kappa Phi, we would like to welcome the pledged to initiation and wish them the best of luck.

In the immediate future we have several other social events scheduled for our members to attend. A formal dance will be held on the evening of October 22, at the Crossroads Inn, Westerly, R.I., and a homecoming party will be held on the evening of October 24, at the Kappa Phi House, 111 College Avenue.

On behalf of the fraternity, we would like to extend our congratulations to all those who have been welcomed into our ranks.

The Outcasts

The Looking Glass Theatre of Providence presented a children's play day Sunday, October 26. The play, "The Outcast," a dramatic play about the life and times of Roger Williams, was aimed at the children in an attempt to acquaint them with their local heritage.

The role of Roger Williams was played by Jon Chervnos, and his wife, Nettie, was portrayed by Nanci Perrett. The play itself was a complete collaboration of the cast and the director, Mrs. Helen Bronson. Much of the original material of Roger Williams' life and writings had been researched by Miss Bronson, before coming to Rhode Island had no idea of who our forefather was.

The production was put together with the intent of giving the children an active part in the play. John Mcllury played John Cotton, the printer who was sentenced to death for printing Puritan literature. John Phillips Evans played the part of Bishop Law, and an Indian who became familiar with Roger Williams.

Roger Williams fled England for fear of his and his followers' lives. Upon settling in Massachusetts, he still had some very radical views of the church, and for spurning these views was exiled from the community.

John Vanlal played the young girl, Abigail. They also helped to bring the first horse to Rhode Island.

The cast directors and technical directors were from Easton.
