PROVIDENCE

RWC Professor Given Educational TV Series

by Steve Isenburger

Prof. John A. Worsley, instructor of the Pol. Sci. Dept., 233 (Practical on Political Campaigning) course at Roger Williams has been given a series on WWSI (Rhode Island Educational Television) channel 36. The series entitled "Practical Politics," will consist of six programs to be shown Tuesday evenings at 7:30 beginning Sept. 29 and ending Nov. 3. The purpose of the series is to explain the art of political campaigning and to examine the New Politics (which arose in the 1930's) with the New Deal, as applied to the former era of Traditional Politics. The format of each show is ready generally to include the main guests who are prominent in the field of politics and two or three panel members who also associate themselves with the political area to add to the discussion. The series should prove interesting to anyone who wishes to gain insight as to how the game of politics is really played.

The program schedule is as follows:

Oct. 7: "Politics" Guests: Prof. Elmer Cowell, Chairman, Pol. Sci. Dept., Brown Univ.; Former Rhode Island Gov. Dennis J. Roberts. (Included on the panel for this show were Mancini from the Pol. Sci. Dept. of Roger Williams and two Roger Williams College students: Tom Ferry and Curt Olsen.)

Oct. 26: "Communication with the Voter." Guests: David Duffy, Vice President of Fitzgerald-Toupee-Public Relations Firm and former advisor for Geo. Rockefeller. (This program will include (Films of Major John Lindsay's speeches, commercials to be analyzed.)

Nov. 3: "Election Night!" This program will concentrate on analysis of the major local campaigns in Rhode Island and one or two of the major campaigns in Massachusetts. The guests will include news and radio men from Rhode Island.

Politicians Come to Bristol Campus

Two Republican candidates are peddling around the state of Rhode Island on a bicycle built for two. The efforts of Republicans William J. McGovern, candidate for Sec. of State, and Joe Tellers, candidate for State Treasurer are, according to them, an attempt to bring the issues to the people of Rhode Island.

Socialist Workers Party Emphasizes Impact of Anti-War Movement

by John Manelli

John Powers and David Fein, the Socialist Workers' Party candidates for Governor and U.S. Senate, respectively, appeared Thursday, October 8, at an emotionally small number (about 25) of students and a couple of faculty members. The candidates emphasized strongly the impact of the anti-war movement on the foreign policy of the Nixon administration, particularly with respect to curbing the Cambodian incursion, then wound up with their party platform.

Mr. Fein, the first speaker, criticized strongly his Democratic opponent's long pre-war voting record saying that Mr. Pasteur is only now moving to the anti-war camp because of the immense pressure of the anti-war movement and the fact of there being a Republican administration in power.

Mr. Pastore's opponents, Father McLaughlin, the Republican candidate, has offered an amendment to end the war similar to the Cooper-Church Amendment.

Mr. Fein responded to this by quoting a section from the amendment which allows for a modification in the withdrawal phases in the war. It is the part of the enemy. "This allowance clause," said Mr. Fein, "shows Father McLaughlin's position not to be one of opposition to the war itself." Father McLaughlin's amendment also talks about a coalition government in South Vietnam to which Mr. Fein said, "It is not consonant with the political area to add to the discussion. The series should prove interesting to anyone who wishes to gain insight as to how the game of politics is really played."

The program schedule is as follows:

Father McLaughlin Speaks at Bristol

by Mark Bigelow

On Wednesday, October 7, Father McLaughlin visited Roger Williams College to voice his political convictions to all interested students. Father McLaughlin was well received by a crowd of students in Lecture Hall 14.

As many students know, Father McLaughlin is running for the office of U.S. Senator in the upcoming election. He accepted his endorsement by acclamation at the Republican Convention held June 25, 1970. His Democratic opponent in Senator Pasteur, who now occupies this position in the U.S. Senate.

Father McLaughlin began his speech by presenting the basic ideas and positions that he believes in and hopes to be able to enact, if elected. The following are a list of the basic positions that Father McLaughlin supports. (1) The president should withdraw all U.S. troops from Viet Nam by November 30, 1973 and let South Viet Nam defend their own land themselves after this date. (2) The president should not have the power to send aid over to Viet Nam without the approval of the Senate. (3) If need be, the removal of all U.S. troop withdrawal should be modified in order to provide a more appropriate completion date. (4) Any attempt to Vietnamese refugees at the end of the war in the U.S. and the Far East or elsewhere. (5) Order an immediate end to all U.S. military operations (bombings, etc.), without waiting for a complete military victory to end the war. (6) Require strict interpretations of the Paris Peace Accords.

Imagine the extremes of the political animal: a twaddly ran- ding student of the strength and intransigence of the Democra tic Party Machine if two Black Belt leaders of yesteryear were to meet. One would urge the countryside on a "bicycle built for two"-an elite political party to win lives or pollute Republican State in a telephone booth with nauseating costs. One operates, however, if there could be a sound political strategy behind this public policy? Could the Republican state feel that a strong contentious political party would actually cause them to demand the Democ ra tic turn on, full force, their most ardent enemies in a virtually ruin the chances of the only really strong candidates on the Repub lican ticket.

Viewpoint

by Stan Nishi

No one can deny that student activism is a problem that plague many campuses. Our campus is not and has not been immune from this problem. Others prefer debating the constitution or religion. And still others are interested in athletics or art. These are all parts of a meaningful college atmosphere. No one would be interested in all these aspects, but there is definit ely need for variety. A well-rounded program means something else too. It means a program that students formulate without the authority of others from within the college community. The activities formed must be the answer to student demands, and not always the pressure of administration, faculty, or other non-student forces. The student body is a majority vote in the college and we have established ways to initiate and support activities. We must use them.

The second feature of activities must to aid student activism. Activities must be planned to serve all students, not a minority. We cannot be satisfied by serving the dormitory students. A great multitude of students contribute a long distance each day. They are part of the student body and deserve to be part of the activities. We cannot sacrifice the strength of a student body of 1500 students just because it is easier to serve 300 dormitory residents.

The third area of my concern revolves around the way student-organized activities. For example, students must remain free to de velop any activity they wish. The student body is fortunate to have substantial funds available for these purposes. It comes directly from the student. We do not need to pass on from the budget committee. We do need to have students the power to use it as they please. The student senate is the administrator of these funds. Any group can obtain these funds as they wish providing their proposals are meaningful. There is a need in the area for students to band together and formolate clubs with various interests. Part of this third issue involves student power. Certain committees exist now that give power to the student body. However, it is the responsibility of the students on these committees to retain power and execute it meaningfully. If a committee such as the traffic committee, or the special events committee falter due to student apathy and some serious difficulties for future student power in these areas. Every student in any committee of origin should realize he or she plays an important role for the respect of the college. Every unit of this nature should realize they have the power to make decisions and be not be over-shadowed by the power of the administration member. I am not sufficiently enough that the student voice is a crucial part of making decisions for a better college community. The student voice will, many times, determine the action of the students to take the initiative and be heard.

Students Eligible For Food Stamps

If you are a college student living away from home, you are eligible for the Federal Food Stamp Program. All you have to do is request it from your local Department of Social Welfare Office. (In Providence, 100 Stamps, present your student ID and your receipt, and for 26 meals you will receive food stamps worth $28.00 a week.)

This is a really good bargain and should be used to advantage. You will not be able to do it. No need to go hungry when the Government will feed you. You are redeemable in most of the legion super markets in and around Rhode Island.

These interested in singing in the popular formed Roger Williams Chorus should come to Room 7 of the Classroom building at the Bristol campus on Tuesdays from 4:00 to 6:00. However, the chorus meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4:00 to 5:25. No previous experience is necessary. The choral repertoire will be a wide variety of works, from modern including popular and choral compositions.

A Conversation With The President
Fine Arts Development

by Steven Crosby

In the past months, several major developments in the fine arts division have created a variety of issues that are of concern to the interested student constituency. Those of us who enjoy the physical beauty that is a result of the college's investment in the fine arts also want to see it used to its fullest potential. In this essay, I'll try to address some of the concerns that have been raised regarding the fine arts division.

1. What is your concept of Leadership?

I believe that leadership should be used as an aid to the students and faculty rather than to further one's own power over them.

2. What do you plan to do in the coming year?

I plan to organize better student and faculty activities (such as the library reading and lecture series, and improve the quality of the food in the cafeteria).

3. Do you think the Student Body needs to be organized? If so, how?

I believe the students should play a role in the decision-making process and that the student body should be involved in the decision-making process.

Elections

The whole is rather well organized and we have now.

4. What role do you see for the student body?

I am in favor of planning or helping to plan for the constitution.

MICHAEL SIMONI

Freshman Class

1. If I receive the office as a member of the student government, I will do my best to assert leadership on behalf of all my fellow students. I will do my best to organize and stick to my guns on all issues. During the year I will sacrifice as much of my free time as possible to have an effective student government could be made, such as a more solid government than we now have.

2. What do you plan on doing with the 30,000 dollars?

I plan to use some of the 30,000 to buy some equipment for the students, a new library and some textbooks. I will try to make everyone feel that they are taking an active part in the school affairs and will try to motivate students to help me make this college, the best of atmosphere possible. During my term of office, I will work constructively and successfully toward my end goal of influencing the whole campus.

3. If you were appointed by President Geswein, and a faculty member, do you agree that the new constitution should be organized?

Yes, because of the gap between the fairness and the students.

4. What role do you see for the student body?

I think the student body should be organized and be able to get their feelings and problems to the representatives to the faculty.

RICHARD LAMBERTSON

Freshman Class

1. A leader has to be looked up to and feel the best way to do that is to be a role model and to encourage the freshmen class to bring their feelings and problems to the representatives.

2. More activities that would include such as concerts and other types of large group activities.

3. Yes, because of the gap between the students and the faculty. We would do anything to make our school better, the words organic and parallel work are often related. Our representatives should be as flexible and unbiased in his views on the current issues that confront the college.

2. What do you plan on doing with the 30,000 dollars?

I plan to the best of my ability to channel the $30,000 to every idea that presents itself worthy and representative to the student body. Since the budget is relatively small compared to the size of the group, I can only represent the student body as a whole (although it is virtually impossible to express the wishes of all students.) The representatives should be to inspire and to voice the opinion of as many students as possible. A leader should be as flexible and unbiased in his views on the current issues that confront the college.

BRISTOL SENATE ELECTIONS

Set for October 5 and 16

With nominations closed, the Bristol Campus is on the alert, who for itself for its second student senate election, which will be held on Thursday and Friday of this week.

The election dates were revised because of the disappointing number of student representatives. During the extended time for nominations, five additional students declared their candidacy. Of men and junior class categories, while one was added to the all-ladies category. Presently, there is a total of 42 candidates.

Freshmen - 8 Sophomores - 9 Juniors - 7 Seniors - 9 All-Large - 10

The time for campaigning will be from October 9 until October 15; and we encourage all our students to hold active campaigns. All full-time registered students must provide their student ID card or any legal identification. The names will be checked against a master list of students in order to prevent duplicated voting. Voting will take place in front of the Quill office on October 25 and 26. The student will vote for six representatives from his class and four representatives at large.

ACTIVITIES

Monday, October 12: Columbia Day - No Classes Tuesday, October 13: Wednesday, October 14: 4:00 p.m. - Open meeting of Social Activity Committee to plan social events for the remainder of the semester.

do this the student constitution must be constructed and forced enough so that the students are not dominated by faculty demands and administrative powers. Our student body is weak now, but with a strong constitution and the right people, we will still be a unified force.

JAMES HEALEY

Sophomore Class

1. What is your concept of leadership?

In my association with the Student Government of Roger Williams College, I have come to the conclusion that the best form of leadership is in the one that can most effectively represent the student body as a whole (although it is virtually impossible to express the wishes of all students.) The representatives should do his best to inspire and to voice the opinion of as many students as possible. A leader should be as flexible and unbiased in his views on the current issues that confront the college.

Freshman Candidates Speak Out

The combined views of: Harry B. Graham running for President of the Freshman class and his running mates Ray Maker, Vice President, and William J. DeVincenzo, Secretary, at-large.

Q. Why do you want to be involved?

A. In the face of the high tide of apathy I deem is necessary to take a stand to ensure that students come involved.

Q. What do you see as the major issues of RWC?

A. The most critical issue that there has been a concern to be fought the apathy here on the RWC campus. The campus cabins to be altered and students to be more involved, especially pre-requisites. Students should have to take courses in proper sequence so as not to impede the education process and to prevent students from being ill-prepared upon graduation. I also feel that the student senate should take more responsibility seriously.

Those interested in joining RWC Ski Club. There will be a meeting Thursday night, June 5, 1970 at Pine St.

Candidates In Profile, Junior Class

GEORGE HEMOND
Junior Class Senator

Q. Why do you want to be involved?

A. I want to be involved in our student government affairs to ensure equal representation by all classes of the student body.

Q. What do you believe are some of the important issues?

A. Implementing the freshman class facilities with emphasis on improving the Student Center.

Q. How do you intend to conduct yourself if elected?

A. To ensure that every student represents his or her own ideas and to make myself available to desires the student senate to take on a campus, but what is worse to have a spotty and lacking education.

While other academic communites are talking about action, Roger Williams College is doing something to help alleviate the social tension and frustration that has rapidly become a major concern of our nation. In November, an entirely new and unique program will be implemented on the campus of Roger Williams College.

The program is designed to increase the social awareness of interested adults who have a desire to understand what is happening around them. Concerned students have made the program possible by selling their books to the faculty and the administration.

of the students. The reasons that I bring this up is due to the fact that in the past times they have failed to do so.

BRIAN DENNIS

1. I hope to take the point of view of the majority of the students. I believe that we can't begin to understand the power and influence and how to deal with it as much as I can.

2. Fund student organizations, sponsor special events. E.g., Films, concerts, concerts.

3. a. Yes, as a political force. I believe that it is very important that freshmen involvement in this campus be substantial (mostly fiction) out for the students to finish reading them. If a student does not find a book or she wants, the library catalog can be located by the librarian to furnish that book and have it available.

The Freshman class is to receive a charter, it is necessary to increase the student representation committee. The money the club receives will be used to purchase developing equipment and an enlarging as well as lenses and a club camera. In addition, ways of making money were discussed at the meeting. This means that the members themselves will not be forced to spend a considerable amount of money.

Mr. Friend consented to help the club until we have a facility to come. Many faculty members interested in photography please contact the photography club.

The meeting of the photography club will be held Thursday, October 17, 1970 in the free period in room A-12. This has a lot of potential! If you are interested in this program, we believe that this program may be used as elective as a number of them will be offered in the daytime program.

2. We believe that it is necessary that the freshman class have the opportunity to have a student organization that represents all classes of the student body.

3. We believe it is important to enhance the reputation of RW in the eyes of the community. In particular in the eyes of high school seniors.

4. It is important for us to influence the administrative decision makers to give the student program at RWC. We also feel that this program should be further developed.

5. We feel it would be our obligation to vote responsibly and to the position of voting according to our own personal beliefs.

Lyn Mayno running for Senator for the Sophomore Class was present at this interview and shares the same base concern as the freshman candidates.

Elections

1. I will do my best to represent the sophomore class by taking the issues that the student senate is dealing with to the students through "The Quill" and referendum.

2. This money represents power held by the student body and the students should have the right to allocate these funds to organize the activities that would inform the entire college community e.g., political forums, films.

3. I feel that the center of the student organization should be the student senate because it is the student senate that forms the core of the student administration and that is the right body to finance some of these ideas.

4. The student constitution must balance the power of the faculty with the power of the student. The student faculty committees with student participation should be joint committees with responsibility delegated to the student senate as well as the Faculty Senate.

ELLIOT MONE

Junior Candidate

I have attended RWC for three years as one of the original members. I know the problems facing the students here at the college.

I will favor a larger part of the administration funds in order to provide every student who is interested in any extra-curricular activities.

3. Yes, we need the "yes" of campaigning brought back to the student government.

4. The student constitution should be made by the students and other constitution, and that along with respect to the interest of the student body should be given the same rights.

LIEUENANT JUINOR

1. Leadership in student government means the ability to cause initiative when needed. In addition, one must have the intestinal fortitude to take action and to be a minority viewpoint in the group.

2. I don't have any grandiose plans as do many of my contemporaries, I just want to be a part of the college community. I would like to make myself available to desires and ideas of my constituency.

4. It is not going to be possible to clear up the misunderstandings and unbiased misconceptions that this generation believes to be the absolute truth. The sooner these half baked ideas are cleared up, the sooner these two generations will be able to function together.

For those interested in Hockey, this is the next edition of the Quill. The date for tryouts and the season of the Pierce College hockey team. The information is listed in that edition. For any information on other basketball or baseball teams, contact the Sports Dept. This issue is underwritten by the Library on the campus.

Basketball

Tryouts for the basketball team are scheduled for Thursday night at 7:00 in the Central High School Gymnasium. Those who are interested should attend that night.

The basketball coach, Mr. Thomas Drennan, came through several teams last year as Hawk starters. Patrick Baur, Larry Long, Jeff Lott, Mike Long and Dave Priole, Bill Abbott and Jerry Lattimer were all crucial players that were uncertain of return. Basketball will soon be a hot sport at Roger Williams College. Jerry Lattimer was second in the last year in scoring, adding to the Hawk defense's strength.

The team itself acquired an average of 967 points a game which is quite a task to complete. From looking over the past records, it seems that most probable candidates for this year's team, looks as though another another year would be a more than adequate task.

The criteria for the scene is witnessing lively games between the unofficial top players in the school. Indications reveal potential for a strong varsity woodsmen's team; hopes are to enter such a team in the regional league for official competition. So far, however, the only game represented in the game club has been chess, but interest is high (other than lack of people) why other pastimes cannot be incorporated. Bridge, Mancala, monopoly, and Avalon Hills are all subjects for inclusion in the gaming club.
