In Memoriam

Ronald J. Davis

... He was placed in the earthly world to enliven the heart of Man with his beautiful and profound sayings. He was a noble soul, sent by the Goddess of Understanding to soothe and make gentle the human spirit ...

Gibran

Ronald Davis was more than an historian. He was a skilled craftsman well versed in refinishing antique furniture. From this art he took the patience and sense of pride in accomplishment, permeating every aspect of his life. As a man and a father he practiced the virtues of generosity, strong sense of humor and intelligent compassion.
He often remarked that his ego provided him with the certainty of an afterlife and he lived this life honestly and with great pride. A friend to his students; they sought him for more than academic counseling. He became involved in their lives as only a friend is ever allowed to be.
Ronald Davis left behind a wonderful wife and three small children. He left in the hearts of all a sense of gladness to have had the fortune of knowing him. Roger Williams has lost more than its most gifted historian. Much more.

James Williams
Gauvy's Pot

By Len Mayo

Consider the politico-sociological function of these sub-committees to propose ways in which the criteria for elimination could be satisfied. The Providence students at the meeting with the President on December 6. We all realize, I am sure, that he fully expected to get the reception he deserved.

That sums up the praise! Our President is not foolish. He knew what the students in Providence would ask in their questioning session. This is to satisfy us that he had a plan to resolve the accreditation question and to satisfy us that he would take the necessary, vigorous action required to implement these plans so that we would be ready for reconsideration for accreditation when the time came. To my dismay, and the dismay of those of us here who had long believed the college failed. He failed badly. Over 300 students were assembled in the Library when he should not and did not have to fail. He should not and did not have to fail. He should not and did not have to fail. He should say answers instead of just words.

The students representation at the meeting with the President was a surprise to me, to those others present, and I am sure to the administration. The popular belief movable to those at the meeting was that of course, there is that there exists no issue which was not presented by the students. That he and the administration did not have a line of answers to questions. By-and-large, it is a start. And as the various committees begin to hold open meetings, at which suggestions and recommendations are welcomed for consideration. Students should attend those meetings, armed with their curiosity and constructive criticism. They should come not to bicker and bawl themselves out of petty points of personal interest, but to be ideas that deal with the facts and issues.

So much of what seems to constitute college life is endless over petty points of personal interest, while those who are capable of changing things for the good, stand by, shaking their heads.

The primary aspect of the plan is an ad hoc committee, known to friend and foe alike as the Accreditation Expediting Committee, to oversee the workings of the various sub-committees and to make sure that by the end of March, when a progress report will be prepared for submission to the accrediting body, all of the problems outlined for the college have been eliminated. The five sub-committees for dealing with specific are the Governance Committee, the Administration Committee, the Resources and Funding Committee, the Academic Committee, and the Tenure Committee.

Each of the sub-committees, with the exception of the Tenure Committee, which deals with a faculty/administration problem, has representation for students, faculty, and administration alike. It is the function of these sub-committees to propose ways in which the criteria for accreditation in their areas can actually be met this time, instead of glossed over in hopes that they would be overlooked.

Although Dr. Gauvy's plan for attack seem bulky and unmanageable, it is at least a start. And as the various committees begin to come into existence it becomes the obligation of anyone interested in seeing Roger Williams College receive its accreditation to oversee the work of the various sub-committees and to make sure that by the end of March, when a progress report will be prepared for submission to the accrediting body, all of the problems outlined for the college have been eliminated. The five sub-committees for dealing with specific are the Governance Committee, the Administration Committee, the Resources and Funding Committee, the Academic Committee, and the Tenure Committee.

Each of the sub-committees, with the exception of the Tenure Committee, which deals with a faculty/administration problem, has representation for students, faculty, and administration alike. It is the function of these sub-committees to propose ways in which the criteria for accreditation in their areas can actually be met this time, instead of glossed over in hopes that they would be overlooked.

The primary aspect of the plan is an ad hoc committee, known to friend and foe alike as the Accreditation Expediting Committee, to oversee the workings of the various sub-committees and to make sure that by the end of March, when a progress report will be prepared for submission to the accrediting body, all of the problems outlined for the college have been eliminated. The five sub-committees for dealing with specific are the Governance Committee, the Administration Committee, the Resources and Funding Committee, the Academic Committee, and the Tenure Committee.

Each of the sub-committees, with the exception of the Tenure Committee, which deals with a faculty/administration problem, has representation for students, faculty, and administration alike. It is the function of these sub-committees to propose ways in which the criteria for accreditation in their areas can actually be met this time, instead of glossed over in hopes that they would be overlooked.

Although Dr. Gauvy's plan for attack seem bulky and unmanageable, it is at least a start. And as the various committees begin to come into existence it becomes the obligation of anyone interested in seeing Roger Williams College receive its accreditation to oversee the work of the various sub-committees and to make sure that by the end of March, when a progress report will be prepared for submission to the accrediting body, all of the problems outlined for the college have been eliminated. The five sub-committees for dealing with specific are the Governance Committee, the Administration Committee, the Resources and Funding Committee, the Academic Committee, and the Tenure Committee.

Each of the sub-committees, with the exception of the Tenure Committee, which deals with a faculty/administration problem, has representation for students, faculty, and administration alike. It is the function of these sub-committees to propose ways in which the criteria for accreditation in their areas can actually be met this time, instead of glossed over in hopes that they would be overlooked.

The primary aspect of the plan is an ad hoc committee, known to friend and foe alike as the Accreditation Expediting Committee, to oversee the workings of the various sub-committees and to make sure that by the end of March, when a progress report will be prepared for submission to the accrediting body, all of the problems outlined for the college have been eliminated. The five sub-committees for dealing with specific are the Governance Committee, the Administration Committee, the Resources and Funding Committee, the Academic Committee, and the Tenure Committee.

Each of the sub-committees, with the exception of the Tenure Committee, which deals with a faculty/administration problem, has representation for students, faculty, and administration alike. It is the function of these sub-committees to propose ways in which the criteria for accreditation in their areas can actually be met this time, instead of glossed over in hopes that they would be overlooked.

Although Dr. Gauvy's plan for attack seem bulky and unmanageable, it is at least a start. And as the various committees begin to come into existence it becomes the obligation of anyone interested in seeing Roger Williams College receive its accreditation to oversee the work of the various sub-committees and to make sure that by the end of March, when a progress report will be prepared for submission to the accrediting body, all of the problems outlined for the college have been eliminated. The five sub-committees for dealing with specific are the Governance Committee, the Administration Committee, the Resources and Funding Committee, the Academic Committee, and the Tenure Committee.

Each of the sub-committees, with the exception of the Tenure Committee, which deals with a faculty/administration problem, has representation for students, faculty, and administration alike. It is the function of these sub-committees to propose ways in which the criteria for accreditation in their areas can actually be met this time, instead of glossed over in hopes that they would be overlooked.

The primary aspect of the plan is an ad hoc committee, known to friend and foe alike as the Accreditation Expediting Committee, to oversee the workings of the various sub-committees and to make sure that by the end of March, when a progress report will be prepared for submission to the accrediting body, all of the problems outlined for the college have been eliminated. The five sub-committees for dealing with specific are the Governance Committee, the Administration Committee, the Resources and Funding Committee, the Academic Committee, and the Tenure Committee.

Each of the sub-committees, with the exception of the Tenure Committee, which deals with a faculty/administration problem, has representation for students, faculty, and administration alike. It is the function of these sub-committees to propose ways in which the criteria for accreditation in their areas can actually be met this time, instead of glossed over in hopes that they would be overlooked.
President Launches "Plan of Attack"

On Monday, December 6, 1971, President Ralph Gauvey addressed Providence campus students on the subjects of accreditation and the facilities for the Providence campus.

Gauvey explained that the problem was revealed last Wednesday. The meeting took place at 3:00 p.m. in lecture hall one. The plan evolved from a number of meetings involving students and faculty as well as administration. The plan has the endorsement of the academic planning committees from both Bristol and Providence.

The plan set up which committee will have specific tasks of concern. Each committee - appointed by faculty as well as administration - is elected, students are involved in the reconsideration process. Each committee will have specific tasks to follow.

Personnel has been assigned to each committee - appointed by elected, students, involved in some.

A schedule has been proposed to meet deadlines. However this may be revised according to needs.

The PAC has been reorganized indicating functions, membership and areas of concern.

Accreditation Process

PHASE I

December 12th. PAC meets to outline matters which the PAC wants considered and reported by committees. This matter will be communicated to the committees through the Expediting Committee.

December 14 - 17th. Each committee meets at least once and submits by Dec. 18th. a written report to Expediting Committee on (1) its preliminary organization and (2) its preliminary understanding of its mandate as described in the November 16th. letter. (At this time it will be the function of the Expediting Committee to revise this schedule according to their own plans.)

PHASE II

January 3 to January 10th. Information:

Gathering of data, studies of available information from College and other sources.

At this point any interested groups or individuals can submit suggestions, data for the committee. The committee will compile all those committees and they will be available for the committee, the Expediting Committee, the President and the Board of Trustees.

PHASE V

February 25th. or February 28th. Recommendations:

In the light of the above and other committees reports each committee may discuss alternatives and comes up with its recommendations in the form of clear priorities and reasonable alternatives.

PHASE VI

February 28th. or March 6th. Synthesis:

The Synthesis Committee reviews all final reports for the purpose of creating a total picture. They then make their recommendations for the whole College in the form of clear priorities and reasonable alternatives.
(PAC)

Aldebaran Announces Awards

The board of Aldebaran wishes to announce the prize winners for artwork, poetry and prose in the first issue of the magazine. Entries only from students at Roger Williams were eligible in the contest. Mr. Donald Justice, visiting poet-in-residence was judge of the poetry and prose, and Marc Neilsen, an artist in Providence judged the artwork.

The award for artwork goes to Robert Woods for his drawing on page 39 of the magazine.

The poetry award is given to Elizabeth Federico for her poem, "Dear Son on an Indian's Summer Day". Honorable mention to Maria Flook for "She had the darkest eyes..." and to Brian MacDonald for "Uncle Johnny".

The award for prose goes to Thomas Goodrich for his story (untitled).

All Students

The 1972-73 Parents Confidential statements and student confidential statements are now available. They may be picked up at either the Admission Office in Bristol or the Financial Aid Office in Providence. The deadline date for submission of these statements is March 1, 1972.

NOTE: Students currently visiting other schools must automatically receive the proper forms in the mail.

John Ford's THE GRAPES OF WRATH by John Steinbeck to be shown at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday at 9:30 a.m.

FREE Lecture Hall I

Girls Be Sharp!! George of Tiffany's He excitement now LONESS CLY is for sharp girls who prefer long hair.

30% DISCOUNT on all products for Faculty members only.

Contact--"MR. GEORGE" at Tiffany's.Hair Styles 245-3323.
Bristol Students Face Crisis

(This Message Paid and Prepared by Bristol Dean of Students Office)

As of 12:00 Noon on Thursday December 8, only six students have picked up nomination petitions for the Student Affairs Council. We would again like to inform you that there are six student positions open for the Council. This Council must operate if the rest of the Student Activity apparatus is to function. There are important issues now facing the College that require student input. The Student Affairs Council has to provide for student appointments to various governing committees (e.g. accreditation, Dean's Search Committee, and faculty committees).

It must be apparent that your student activity fee has been put to minimal use this semester. With good conscience, it would be unethical to continue to tax students for services not performed.

It would also be futile to proceed with elections without a bare minimum of ten or twelve candidates.

Please consider the fact that student activities are an outgrowth of student government and student institutional involvement. There are only very limited alternatives to this situation. We are now trying such an alternative, which will fail without your support.

December 14th is the proposed deadline for student candidates to submit their nomination papers for the election. This deadline cannot be extended more than one day. If on Wednesday the situation is still not promising, elections will be called off. At this stage it is my understanding that negotiation would begin for the crediting of this past semester's student activity fee and the rescinding of the upcoming semester's fee. This is the worst possible alternative for Roger Williams College students and the community. The importance of extra-curricular activities on a largely commuter campus are crucial and a curtailment of such would be tragic.

Petitions are available in the Dean of Students Office for those who are interested in the directions of Roger Williams College.
Announcement of Bristol Elections

The alternative student government proposal has been passed by the Bristol Student Body. The next step is to formulate the Student Affairs Council. There are six student positions to be filled. These students will be responsible for budget appropriations as well as the other functions outlined in the proposal. (Copies of the new system are still available in the Dean of Students Office.)

The nominating and campaign procedures will take place thru Dec. 17th. The actual election of student candidates will take place by mail over the Christmas recess.

The following schedule will be followed:

Dec. 14: nominating petitions and candidate position paper to be submitted to the Dean of Students
Dec. 15 at 3 p.m. an open forum with moderator--all candidates participate--a reminder that these dates represent deadlines. Failure to adhere will result in disqualification of candidacy.

The courses that Mr. Davis taught can be considered as given in the other members of the History 111 Tues/Thurs at 3:30--See History.

Wish You a Merry Christmas

JUNE ROGER NEEDS YOU!!
Wor! You Please Consider Running for Office

Carnival of Pizza

"Just a little different"
"Pizza ala Great"
"Subs Supreme"
Open from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.
Closed Sundays.
SPECIAL CATERING to parties and get-togethers.
"DISCOUNT WITH STUDENT I.D. CARD."
Prices to fit the Student Budget.
210 Atwells Ave.
Prov. R.I. 621-1670

ASCE Club News

I. There will be a mandatory meeting of all members of the ASCE Club Tuesday, December 14 for final discussion and plans for the ASCE Annual Christmas Party to be held at Woodward Country Club on Saturday, December 18. The Christmas Party will be open to all students and faculty. There is a limited number of tickets to be sold so buy them as soon as possible. To buy your tickets contact any of the following: Stuart Tucker, Dennis Atkinson, Joseph Marcello, James Schindler, James Wheeler.

II. The ASCE Club has civil engineering literature available at its library in room A-3.

III. AASCE will hold its annual banquet on Tuesday, December 14th at 5:30 p.m. in room A-4. The meeting will continue until 7 p.m. to conclude the meeting.

IV. Club members interested in becoming a member of the ASCE Club are invited to attend.

V. The club sponsors various activities such as field trips, speakers, and films.

VI. The senior club members offer help to anyone in the architectural or construction program.

VII. ASCE offers opportunities to anyone in the architectural or construction program who seeks help in various engineering courses.

VIII. ASCE calendar of events.

Join Us: This Spring in Sunny Acapulco

Pick Your Week

March 26 - April 1
or April 1 - April 7

Only $345.00

ALL INCLUSIVE

PRICE INCLUDES:
Round trip Aereonaves de Mexico
Round trip by land in Mexico and to the Las Hamacas Hotel (triple occupancy)
Breakfast and dinner daily
Full gratuities, U.S. transportation tax, and baggage assistance
Bus transportation from Providence to Boston for more information and reservations

Call Carol at 861-3638
Sponsored by Chris Travel

Cafeteria News by Sach

A food preference questionnaire will be administered to resident students Thursday, Jan. 6. The questionnaire will be handed out at the door when students come to their evening meal and will be collected before they depart. This concerns dorm students only.

The questionnaire breaks down 50 of the most common foods, into "likes," "dislikes," and "do not knows." Mr. Parry, the dining hall manager, stated, "by administering this questionnaire, we hope to weed out what students like and dislike in their meals."

Dorm Government Meeting by Lisa Nahr bury

Once again the problem of security has arisen, but this time it is no longer a joke. Last week an alleged rape occurred in the dorm, causing much fear among residents. Dean Goldberg was at the meeting addressing representatives to convey the importance of security in the dorm to all residents as well as the need to keep all fire escape doors and unit doors locked at all times, do not open doors for people who you don’t know; and call either the halls or the security guard if there are strangers wandering around in your unit. This is for your benefit — it may be your neck next!

Carol Ryan is setting up a committee to review the cases of students who break contracts and move out of the dorm. Chip Howe and Russ Fontaine were elected to sit on this committee.

A resident student caught smoking marijuana or hash in the dorm currently would have his school with a permanent record. Discussion to change this ruling was debated at length before the Judith Board, the maximum penalty being expulsion from the dorm with no permanent record.

Only two cases have arisen, but this time it is no longer a joke. Last week an alleged rape occurred in the dorm, causing much fear among residents. Dean Goldberg was at the meeting addressing representatives to convey the importance of security in the dorm to all residents as well as the need to keep all fire escape doors and unit doors locked at all times, do not open doors for people who you don’t know; and call either the halls or the security guard if there are strangers wandering around in your unit. This is for your benefit — it may be your neck next!

Once again the problem of security has arisen, but this time it is no longer a joke. Last week an alleged rape occurred in the dorm, causing much fear among residents. Dean Goldberg was at the meeting addressing representatives to convey the importance of security in the dorm to all residents as well as the need to keep all fire escape doors and unit doors locked at all times, do not open doors for people who you don’t know; and call either the halls or the security guard if there are strangers wandering around in your unit. This is for your benefit — it may be your neck next!

Carol Ryan is setting up a committee to review the cases of students who break contracts and move out of the dorm. Chip Howe and Russ Fontaine were elected to sit on this committee.

A resident student caught smoking marijuana or hash in the dorm currently would have his school with a permanent record. Discussion to change this ruling was debated at length before the Judith Board, the maximum penalty being expulsion from the dorm with no permanent record.

A resident student caught smoking marijuana or hash in the dorm currently would have his school with a permanent record. Discussion to change this ruling was debated at length before the Judith Board, the maximum penalty being expulsion from the dorm with no permanent record.

Only two cases have arisen, but this time it is no longer a joke. Last week an alleged rape occurred in the dorm, causing much fear among residents. Dean Goldberg was at the meeting addressing representatives to convey the importance of security in the dorm to all residents as well as the need to keep all fire escape doors and unit doors locked at all times, do not open doors for people who you don’t know; and call either the halls or the security guard if there are strangers wandering around in your unit. This is for your benefit — it may be your neck next!

Carol Ryan is setting up a committee to review the cases of students who break contracts and move out of the dorm. Chip Howe and Russ Fontaine were elected to sit on this committee.

A resident student caught smoking marijuana or hash in the dorm currently would have his school with a permanent record. Discussion to change this ruling was debated at length before the Judith Board, the maximum penalty being expulsion from the dorm with no permanent record.
College has more than its share of moralisers because most of us are guilty of some degree of cheating and unethical conduct, if by virtue of no other fact than that we more or less voluntarily support and tolerate a system of society that regards human against human and reduces our relationships to a cold standard of hard cash, or utility. The more we tolerate what we suspect to be degenerate and evil, the less authority we have to moralise about it. My life is full of contradictions, some imposed by the society trap, others created by myself. Who am I to judge thieves and cheats? I don't steal things directly, but indirectly, if you care to make the distinction. I know what a rip off America is pulling on the rest of the world. I'm angry about it, but I tolerate it and reap its benefits.

There are people at Roger Williams who are learning fast to be Americans. They will lift your coat, rob your room, steal your books, bend your license plate, cheat you any way that's convenient, then sympathize with you when they themselves are caught. Consider the kids who cheated on Mrs. Spencer's art history test a few weeks ago. (12:30 section) No qualms about doing it openly, not even when the victim is the actual doer of disturbing others, who had honestly studied and were trying to concentrate on the test. We were all expected to sit there and be troubled about it, I suppose, because what we did. America is full of tacit conspirators. Who was going to make enemies who were not guilty as a group, the risk being known as a righteous fallout? Why, it would be so perfect, or different? The cheaters obviously were ignorant of the fact that they were doing violent things to anyone's essence, or they didn't care. I felt vindicated on this way, I mostly trust people, and I have to believe that people are basically good and don't want to cheat others. I tell myself that people who cheat are victims of circumstances, if they are, they are in all. Faith in the goodness and perfectability of human beings is necessary for my existence. I won't believe that human destiny isn't in human hands. When I see people knowingly committing a wrong, it shakes my foundations, does violence to the essence of my reason to exist, my being.

To say what a cheater is, though, is partake of self-analysis. If Jesus came back today, goes the old saw, we'd probably have another 2,000 years of guilt and shame because we'd certainly kill him again. Show me the difference between the Americans and the Russians and the Pharisians and the Saducees. Perhaps it is the long range boner. I know there's no real difference. What my country is doing to the world is an ignoble crime. We are rightly called criminal by nations that suffer under our sophisticated yoke. Being Americans, few of us are guiltless. I don't want to be one of Agnew's massochists, but I refuse to ignore the point. A feeling of guilt is necessary before one will willingly alter one's wrong behavior, or precautions that will turn away the tide. There is no one in the psychological class of Americans who are largely guilty of the rape of the world, but we all share the blame somehow. This is a problem of their powerful corruption of our complacency, ignorance, apathy and selfishness for comfort. Therefore, when I direct my anger at the society, I am also directing it partly at myself and others of the middle class. This anger is a purifying process, but, since it is also directed at myself, I must make special efforts to keep my anger fueled with an awareness of the facts available to me. Everyday, I read the New York Times and make mental notes of how many more peaceans and their children were butchered by death, and nuclear warplanes. Made in USA, in the factories owned by our ruling class. Each day I read or argument over this or that "concession" or "surrender" of war. Nothing in these actions seem only slightly connected with the Japanese plunder of Manchuria shortly before their bandit raid on the rest of the world. To me, our rulers' lofty defensive statements about "preserving freedom" in the " DLL III Japanese talk of a "Divine Mission". I propose that America's sacred involvement in Vietnam is an atrocity equalling and surpassing Japan's imperialistic horridities in Manchuria and China. This knowledge reinforces my conviction that the men who rule our country are not fit to do so. They are selfish and materialistic men whose only values are cold, hard cash, and they are supported in their infamy by the middle classes, who imitate them. They are cold and prepotent and evasive about the sufferings of the millions they exploit, who exist to suffer. If you don't believe the rich are a heartless lot, look at their damned deeds. This one wants an oil concession in this country so he and his friend can continue to sell gas and another circle of friends can continue to make cars and be rich, so they can act like big shots. The cars end up in the infinite American Junkyard, and their corrupted drivers are left to stumble around crazily, looking for another one.

These riches and their imitators have a work fast in the same "sphere of influence." The people there are beginning to feel exploited. We're getting all their goodies and they are living in hovels and eating millet, if that. So the rich and their imitators are very paranoid, and they build bombs and long-range bombers and aim them at other rich people. However, when the bombs go off, the middle class dies.

The irony about the exam cheaters is that most of them, being young and aware of authority's tyranny, are probably being abused by our world involvement. Most of them would probably condemn the Vietnam War righteously, if asked for an opinion. Everybody feels cheated by the war, but not many are ready to examine their own contribution to international chicanery.

Yes, there are big cheaters and little ones. Publication of the Pentagon Papers has shown us many of them. They lie, and, if they must lie no doubt that four-five people who want to be called his accomplices, entered into overt and tacit conspiracy to cheat us out of the whole truth of the Vietnam War, which has cost upward of a trillion dollars. It is impertinent to claim all the incorrect million of acres of precious earth and made us a nation of hateful paranoids and moral weaklings. I can't help wondering if any of these international deceivers cheated in school. The essence of cheating is deceit. Perhaps the exam cheaters would not drop bombs on innocent people, but their deception is certainly a step in that direction.

What disturbs me about it is that they obviously expected all of us to ignore the fact that they were doing it. If you studied for the exam and were trying to achieve a good score, didn't you feel cheated by what they were doing? I feel that cooperation with yourself / and others if you wish) on a test of memory and intellect is healthy if it isn't carried to extremes. Because the test was graded on the curve, they obviously cheating everyone who studied. Not to mention cheating Mrs. Spencer, who is a good person. If I saw someone ripping off my neighbors, I'd call the police. If I saw someone trying to steal a coat, I'd try to stop him. I think we lot of Americans are too much trust people, and I have to question the rest of the world. To me, our relationship is in a futile, frustrated gesture. It it was a humorous that some peasant who took of his coat, he exist to suffer. I don't stole things just because I couldn't be so angry and felt running my country someday.

Some brazen fellow spotted it through the service window of the A-V Dept., stopped inside the store, ran out to the back and caught it. Sometimes I feel so much cold, and other times I was so miserably cold that the experience burned itself into my consciousness. Hence, my psychological attachment to that coat. Deep feelings of insecurity, and painful loss when it was taken.

"What's happening to me?" I asked my father's footsteps. Maybe someday I'll be President.

"Well, you studied for the exam, didn't you?" I asked. How could a college be so insured, with all the cheaters and thieves around here? A word of warning to the ignorant: the next time you see, whoever you are, cheating in class, I'll lock it up, point you out and denounce you. It scares hell out of me to think you may be running my country someday.
CLASSIFIED ADS
Free of Charge
Courtesy of Student Publications, Inc.

WANTED: VW '67 vp. Must be nice up to $1,500 or '65 and trade for Jag 65-664 Jan.

FOR SALE: '71 Vega 4 speed 110 horse, AM-FM radio, Black blue, Black interior, low mileage. Tony 671-7368 after 5 p.m.

HELP! WANTED: Need school funds? Students like yourself are earning good income in their own spare time. Openings now available for qualified persons. Phone 722-9208.

FOR SALE: Marshall 100 watt 8-12" speaker. Sumo 5000 $410. JBL's, Sumo Studio P.A., Gibson KS-225, Fender Stratocaster, Call Jack or Pete 523-8281.

TUTOR: College grad, will tutor French and/or English - composition, proof-read themes, term papers etc. My home or yours, reasonable rates. Call: Bristol, 253-7134 anytime.

SKI SHARES AVAILABLE:
Located 1/2 mi. from Mt. Snow. People interested in buying a share for the season should contact Arlene 255-8166.

SNEAK DRUM: Wanted one Sneak Drum with Stand before Christmas. Please contact Mrs. Linda Cambra in the Brattle Library or call 255-2281.

WANTED a female to share a house with 2 other girls. Private bedroom. In Bristol, two miles from school. Call 253-4185 Bridgette, Sandy, Lin or Mary.

SHOTGUN FOR SALE: (or swap) J.C. Higgins, 12 Gauge. Call 434-7645. Ask for Mike.

FOR RENT: Furnished Room. Private Lavatory and semi full bath and kitchen facilities. Maid Service. Gentlemen only. 411 Wood St., Bristol, R.I.

FOR SALE: Good violin, in fine shape. $75. After 5 p.m. call: 252-4577.

DRUMS: Complete Ludwig set excellent condition. 253-4177.

APARTMENT NEEDED: Male student needs apartment desperately. Will share all necessary expenses. Call 255-3220.

FOR SALE: Guild T-100 Hollowbody Electric Guitar, Sunburst $175. Call: 255-2285.

WATERBED: Any size call Tommy 914-4215.

APARTMENT: I'm looking for somebody that has an apartment to room with or a place for me to live. Contact: Warren (417) 673-7461.

BOARDER WANTED: Tired of living at home or in the dorm? Call 683-2545 for information. Concerns house on the water in Portsmouth. Includes private bedroom, good sized parlor, Color TV, fireplace and garage.

FOR SALE: Super Valiant, really good! Best offer choice of options. 253-3125.

TYPING: Eng. Major will type paper student rate 35¢ per page $1.50 minimum. Call 246-1059.

WANTED: Need 2 girls as bar waitresses, must be 21. Call Manny 251-8008 at The Wagon Wheel.

FREE: clean, female spayed cat, tiger stripe on back. White under body clean. Call 253-4217, 252-2184.

APARTMENT FOR RENT: Spring Semester, Meracoom Ave. Contact Richard Fuller, 253-4550.

FREE: 5 Kittens, Contact Mrs. Harlow: office, 253-2184.

FOR SALE: 1967 Ducati M.C. 100 cc good shape, needs about $15.00 of work. Must sell $175.00. Call Bob 255-2222.

The taping of the U.W.W. special by TV 12 occurred last week. It was scheduled to be shown last Saturday but was pre-empted by the N.F.L. Detroit vs. Minn. football game. Please watch your local listings for U.W.W. on TV 12's Roundtable show.

The tapings of the U.W.W. special by TV 12 occurred last week. It was scheduled to be shown last Saturday but was pre-empted by the N.F.L. Detroit vs. Minn. football game. Please watch your local listings for U.W.W. on TV 12's Roundtable show.

Bermuda '72
MARCH 25 — APRIL 1
APRIL 1 — APRIL 8
TRIP INCLUDES: Air conditioned room, private bath, full English style meals daily, live entertainment at hotel, private beach and pool, hotel sponsored parties plus much more.

For information contact: Art Patmuad 941-8689

ASCE Club
Christmas Party
Sat. Evening
Dec. 18, 1971
8:00 p.m.
Woodlawn Country Club
Old Baptist Road
N. Kingston, R.I.
Donation $4.00 per person
New England Patriots Blast Miami 34-13

Almost in for a score, Plunkett No. 16 on the next play handed off to Nance for a T.D.

On this play Plunkett threw to Randy Vataka for a T.D.

No. 7 Pete Gogolak leaves field after kicking goal.

Jim Plunkett, No. 16, two yards away from a score.

The scoreboard speaks for itself.

It was the finale at Schaffer Stadium in Foxboro, Mass.

Photos By Alan Hochman
Hawks Rip Curry 102-77

Roger Williams College Hawks opened its 1971-72 basketball season on Dec. 3, 1971 at Our Lady of Providence Seminary in Providence against Curry College of Milton, Mass. The Hawks ran away with the game 102-77.

The Hawks trailed only once in the game, in the opening minutes 8-7, but at 15:35 Ralph Roberti laid one in and from then on the Hawks never lost the lead. During the early minutes of the game, the Hawks ran off 12 straight points and held a 23-10 lead with 11:37 remaining in the first half. Jim Koziara, converted the free shot and the Hawk lead was 18-10.

With less than seven minutes to go in the first half, the second technical foul was called on Curry Player, Joseph Cacciatore, with 6:46 to go RW led 39-22. The third technical foul, again on Cacciatore, came with only 14 seconds remaining in the first half. This time Cacciatore was thrown out of the game. At half time the Hawks led 57-34.

The game was marred by four technical fouls called against Curry College. The first occurred at 12:55 in the first half. Jim Koziara's tally, on a driving layup, climaxed a sensational third quarter uprising New England Patriots. The idea behind this league is that it will provide a program in which all may take part during winter months.

Anyone interested in participating in the Basketball league must submit a team roster of at least 10 players to the Athletic office before Friday, January 17th. All students and faculty are invited to participate.

Recreational Basketball League

The second half of the Bristol Recreational Basketball league will begin on Thursday, January 13th. The league will be set up according to the number of teams entered. Games will be played on Thursday evening and possibly Tuesday. The number of teams entered is more than 6. Games will be played at the Andrews School Gym on Hope Street in Bristol.

Anyone interested in participating in the Basketball league must submit a team roster of at least 10 players to the Athletic office before Friday, January 17th. All students and faculty are invited to participate.

Fastest food in town

The food is good and fast at McDonald's. It doesn't cost much, either.

5-Man Football

As part of the winter recreation program a five man football league is in the process of being started. Games will be played in the afternoons of the first half of the season.

The idea behind this league is that it will provide a program in which all may take part during winter months. Some ideas on how the league will be set up will be 9; 5 men to a team; of offensive team-a quarter, a center, 3 pass receivers. Defensive team; 1 rusher; 4 pass defenders. Tentative rules - no running only passes, 3 completed passes first down. The league is open to all students and faculty. Anyone interested in participating in the league should submit a team roster of at least 6 to the Athletic office before Friday, January 17th.

Hockey Schedule

Dec. 18....

Dec. 18, Sat., Trinity College, Middletown, Conn., 8:35 p.m.
Jan. 13, Sat., Western New England College, Springfield, Mass., 8:00 p.m.
Jan. 23, Sun., Rhode Island Junior College, Cranston, R.I., 8:00 p.m.
Jan. 28, Fri., Canton Tech, Canton, N.Y., 8:00 p.m.
Jan. 29, Sat., Canton Tech, Canton, N.Y., 2:00 p.m.
Jan. 31, Mon., Gordon, Richards (Home), 9:00 p.m.
Feb. 7, Mon., Cape Cod, Richards (Home), 8:00 p.m.
Feb. 16, Wed., Gordon, Wenham, Mass., 8:00 p.m.
Feb. 19, Sat., Cape Cod, Hyannis, Mass., 8:00 p.m.
Feb. 23, Mon., Rhode Island Junior College, (Home), 9:00 p.m.
Feb. 26, Sat., Western New England Brown (Home), 7:00 p.m.
Feb. 28, Mon., Hawthorne, Richards (Home), 9:00 p.m.
Mar. 4, Sat., Nason, Brown (Home), 7:00 p.m.